SNOW AND ICE IN NORTHERN DISTRICTS

Chill Blast Comes; Warning Sent Ranchers; Mantle of White Over Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 15.—The Pacific northwest was in the grip of real winter weather today. Snow and ice and falling temperatures were reported in many areas, according to the United States district weather office here.

Winter came in with a chill blast and plenty of snow in Portland, the mercury dropping 13 degrees in two hours this morning. At 5 a. m. the thermometer read 47 degrees and at 7 a. m. it had dropped to 34 degrees.

Continued fall of snow was expected here and eastern Oregon and Washington areas were also in line for stormy weather. Warning was sent out to ranchers to protect their stock.

At Kamloops, B. C., a foot of snow and zero weather was reported. A high barometer in Alaska, which slowly moved down the coast is the cause of the present storm, the weather office said.

Heavy, wet snow continued to fall all morning in Portland and many parts of the northwest and the weather bureau predicted the storm might reach damaging proportions.

Power Wires Break

Telephone lines from Portland to St. Helens and Astoria went out for a time but were restored.

Broken limbs of trees and telephone poles caused twenty breaks in high voltage and power lines of two Portland electric companies.

A temperature of 24 degrees was the forecast here tonight which was expected to turn the slushy streets into ice rinks.

GIANT DIRIGIBLE U. S. NAVY PLAN

Balloon 100 Feet Longer Than Shenandoah Is Recommended

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Plans for the construction of a dirigible airship over 100 feet longer than either the Shenandoah or the Los Angeles and with a gas volume more than double that of either, to be used solely for trans-Atlantic commercial purposes, were submitted to the naval sub-committee of the House appropriation committee by Rear-Admiral William A. Moffet, chief of the bureau of aeronautics in the navy department.

This giant of the air which the admiral told the committee the navy dpeartment has been figuring on, he estimated could make forty trips annually between New York and London and earn approximately a profit of $4,856,000.

A cash prize of $50 will be awarded to the organization holding second place.

A like amount in cash will be awarded to the churches holding first and second place on conditions as stated above.

The judges will make the awards next Monday.

FOOD PRICES RISE TRIFLE IN MONTH

Less Than One Per Cent Advance But Lower Than Last Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Wholesale prices of commodities averaged one-half of one per cent higher in November than in October, the department of labor announced today. They were, however, less than one-half of one per cent higher than in November last year.

Food articles in November were 1½ per cent higher, due to increases in butter, coffee, eggs, flour and vegetable oils. Clothing materials, metals and chemicals and drugs also averaged more than 1 per cent higher than in October, while in the group of miscellaneous commodities, including such important articles as cattle feed, leather, wood pulp and wrapping paper, prices were 2½ per cent higher.

Federal Government To Aid Liquor Fight

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The aid of the federal government in getting to the bottom of the New Jersey liquor scandal was promised today in a formal statement issued by Mrs. Mabel W. Willebrandt, the assistant attorney-general in charge of prohibition enforcement. Mrs. Willebrandt congratulated the New Jersey authorities for progress already made and expressed the opinion that the chief problem now was to get at the "higher ups" connected with the bootlegging in the vicinity of Weehawken.

Warehouse, 1800 Tons Of Hay Are Destroyed

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Dec. 15.—A huge warehouse at Cotati, eight miles south of here, belonging to the Cotati Land company, was a smouldering heap of ruins today, following a spectacular fire late last night, which, in addition, completely burned up 1800 tons of hay, valued at $45,000, stored in the structure. Nobody was reported injured. Spontaneous combustion was given as the apparent cause of the blaze.

ENGLAND MAY TAKE HAND IN REVOLT

Latest Moroccan Outbreak Causes Foreign Office Much Concern

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The foreign office today denied that British interests were threatened as yet by the new revolt of Riff tribesmen near Tangier. England and France have entered into no agreement regarding concerted action there, the foreign office announced.

However, it was believed Great Britain later may have to take a hand in the Moroccan situation, as a result of the latest outbreak at Alcazar Kiber.

British rights in Tangier may be endangered by this latest aggression of the tribesmen, it was thought.

The British press is playing up the new revolt as well as the heavy cost of the Spanish withdrawal from most of Morocco.

The Spanish embassy today said the revolts of the Anjeria tribes were due to propaganda from the outside which started in Egypt, spread to Tunis and now had affected 10,000 Anjeria Arabs.

Tribesmen Take Spanish Posts In Morocco, Report

ANGIER, Morocco, Dec. 15.—Freed from the danger of a flank attack by the Spanish retreat, the Anjeria tribesmen today were in possession of the Spanish post at Alcazar Kiber. Several Spanish were taken prisoners in the attack and held as hostages against the possibility of reprisal attacks by Spanish airplanes.

Other posts have fallen, it was reported here, and more are besieged by the tribesmen.

The move has exposed twenty miles of the Tetuan-Ceuta railway, endangering the supply service to Tetuan. Steamers from Gibraltar have ceased calling at the port of Tetuan, which is under rebel fire.

TUMBLING TRAIN HURTS 9 PEOPLE

Washington State Interurban Falls Over Embankment Dropping 100 Feet

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Dec. 15.—Motorman S. Garrett was seriously injured and eight passengers suffered less serious injuries about 7:30 o'clock this morning when an interurban from Bellingham to Mount Vernon, Wash., turned completely over and rolled 100 feet down a steep embankment ten miles south of this city on the slope of Chuckanut mountain when the grade gave away under it for a distance of 250 feet.

The slide continued down the mountainside across the state highway and the Great Northern railway tracks, completely blocking them both. The injured were taken to the hospital at Burlington.

Wood Will Raise Fund For Colony of Lepers

MANILA, Dec. 15.—Governor-General Wood, who visited the Culion leper colony last week, reported today that of the 6,000 members of the colony, 300 are on the road to recovery from the disease. The governor said he plans to start a campaign in the United States to raise $1,000,000 for the Culion sufferers. Fully one-third of the present Philippine government appropriation for public health is devoted to attempts to cure the lepers in Culion colony, the governor said.

Seeks Opinion of U. S. On Geneva Peace Pact

LONDON, Dec. 15.—Replying to a question Foreign Secretary Chamberlain promised the House of Commons today that he would seek the opinion of the United States in regard to the Geneva peace protocol before the commons would consider it.

$21,000,000 Tax Evasion Is Alleged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—An alleged tax evasion of $21,000,000 by the United States Steel corporation has been unearthed by the Senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau, Senator Couzens, Republican of Michigan, the committee chairman, announced today. Couzens said the loss to the government came about through an allowance of a $55,000,000 amortization claim to the steel corporation, part of which the committee thought to be unlawful.

LABOR CHIEFTAIN TO LIE IN STATE

Remains of Gompers Then Will Be Buried In Sleepy Hollow

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—While the funeral train bearing the body of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, crawled toward the Capital today, labor leaders met here and completed plans for according "the chief" a funeral that will testify to the high place he held in the hearts of his lieutenants.

A special train will leave the Capital at 9:20 o'clock tomorrow morning, bearing labor officials and friends of the dead leader. This train will meet the funeral train at Martinsburg, W. Va., at noon and the Washington party will return on it. Other delegations will meet the train at Washington Junction.

To Lie In State

From Union station the remains of President Gompers will be taken to the American Federation of Labor building, whose broad facade has been draped in black. There in the rooms where he labored so long in behalf of men who toil, the body will be laid in state, to remain until midnight, when it will be returned to the station and placed aboard a train for New York.

Fifty leaders in the labor world will meet the train at 7:30 o'clock in New York, and accompany the remains of the dead leader to their final resting place in Sleepy Hollow cemetery.

CIVIL WAR IS AVERTED BY CHINESE

Military Governors Agree To Step Down When Force Threatened

PEKING, Dec. 15—The Peking military expedition against Chi Hsieh Yuan, military governor of Kiangsu province has been temporarily held up, due to word received here today that he has complied with the central government's mandate and resigned from his office, it was announced at the foreign office this afternoon.

However, it was added, the expedition may yet have work ahead of it, for Peking has also ordered Sun Chuan Chuan Fang, Tuchun of Chekiang, adjacent to Kiangsu, to resign his post, and, unless Sun obeys promptly, force will be used to oust him. Tuchun Sun is the last Chihli party militarist now in office.

The Chihli party was ousted from control of Peking recently by the coup of Feng Yu-Hsiang, the Christian general of China, who marched upon the capital and forced the Chihli government to resign.

Military Governor Gives Up Possession of Office

SHANGHAI, Dec. 15. — The threatened renewal of civil war in China in the vicinity of Shanghai came to an end today when it was learned in dispatches from Nanking, capital of Kiangsu province, in which Shanghai is located, that Chi Hsieh-Yuan, military governor of Kiangsu, who had been ordered removed from his post by Peking and who had threatened to resist this order, had finally decided to comply with the dismissal mandate and had turned the seals of his office over to Han Kueo Chan, the civil governor of Kiangsu. Chi's family arrived here today and Chi himself is expected to reach Shanghai by tonight.

M'COY TO TAKE STAND IN TRIAL

Packed Courtroom Waits to Hear Mors Testify; Ex-Pugilist Next

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Kid McCoy will testify.

While a packed courtroom waited this afternoon for Albert A. Mors to take the witness stand and tell the dramatic story of McCoy winning from him the woman for whose death McCoy now is standing trial for murder, the former prize fighter's lawyers decided to let McCoy testify.

Decision to put McCoy on the stand came, it was said, at the insistence of the defendant, who demanded that he give his version of Mrs. Mors' death. McCoy will testify that Mrs. Mors killed herself, his attorneys said.

The state is expected to finish its case tomorrow, permitting the defense to open its case Wednesday.

D. H. Smith May Be Chosen Member of City Council

D. H. SMITH, manager of the Brand boulevard branch of the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank, whose friends are urging him to permit his name to be presented to the City Council to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Councilman Asa Hall. Mr. Smith has the matter under consideration.

D. H. Smith, manager of the Brand boulevard branch of the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank, recently elected president of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, and prominent in the city's development, may be appointed to the City Council to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Councilman Asa Hali.

A committee of citizens, including members of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, members of the Glendale Realty board and representatives of other organizations, visited Mr. Smith today to secure his consent to the presentation of his name to the City Council, which has the power, under the city charter, to fill the vacancy.

It is understood that Mr. Smith at first declined to permit his name to come before the council for consideration. However, the committee and other citizens continued to urge that he agree to serve if tendered the appointment by the council and, it is stated, Mr. Smith finally declared that he would take the matter under consideration.

Well Informed Citizen

Friends of Mr. Smith, and they are many in Glendale, declare that he would make an ideal city councilman, due to his financial experience, his knowledg of Glendale, his service in connection with various big projects, his civic information gained while vice-president and now president of the Chamber of Commerce and, in brief, because of his standing as a citizen generally.

When seen by a reporter for The Evening News, Mr. Smith declared that he was undecided as to his course of action relative to permitting his name to come before the council, saying that he had no definite statement to make until later.

Council Holds Session

The City Council held a special meeting this morning to pass a resolution of sympathy in the death of Councilman Asa Hall, a copy of which appears elsewhere in today's Glendale Evening News and to make arrangements to at-

$5,000,000 Swindle In Cemetery Site Found

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Alleged to have participated in the perpetration of a gigantic "cemetery" swindle, by which Southern California investors were defrauded of between $3,500,000 and $5,000,000, John R. Osborne and O. C. Fitzpatrick, said to be promoters of the Valhalla Cemetery Co., were arrested today on federal grand jury indictments charging them with "using the mails in a scheme to defraud."

Woman Denies Part In Plot to Kill Husband

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Dec. 15.—Elsie Sweetin took the witness stand today in her own defense here, and, while the jury was excluded to permit the court to pass on the admissability of the testimony, coolly denied any memory of a Chicago newspaper woman in whose presence the state charges she confessed her part in the poisoning of her husband, Wilford, as part of her "love pact" with Rev. Lawrence M. Hight.

ASA HALL BURIAL SERVICE TUESDAY

Funeral Ceremony to Take Place at Presbyterian Church Tomorrow

The Glendale city council met at 11 o'clock this morning, in a special session called by Mayor Spencer Robinson, and voted to close all departments of the municipal government from 1 until 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Tuesday, December 16, out of respect for Asa Hall, city councilman, who passed away Saturday, December 13, aged 80 years, and will be buried tomorrow.

This action was taken by the council to enable all city employes who so desire to attend the funeral exercises, which will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Glendale Presbyterian church, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor, officiating.. Interment will be held at the Hollywood cemetery, Santa Monica boulevard, Los Angeles. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Kiefer & Eyerick.

Adopts Resolution

The council this morning also adopted a resolution of condolence and sympathy to the widow and family of the deceased. All four remaining councilmen — Mayor Spencer Robinson, S. A. Davis, S. S. Gilhuly and C. E. Kimlin—were present. Virgil B. Stone, city manager, and A. J. Van Wie, city clerk, were also present.

The matter of appointing a successor to fill Mr. Hall's unexpired term was not taken up. The council will meet again on Thursday

SEEK INCREASE TO MEET PAY BOOST FOR EMPLOYES

Second, Third Class Matter, Parcels Post, Registered Letters Face Raise

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—An administration drive for $68,000,000 increase in postal rates to pay for wage advances to postoffice employes will be started within ten days by the opening of public hearings, it was announced today by Senator Sterling, Republican, of South Dakota, chairman of the Senate postoffice committee.

The new rate measure, Sterling said, will be drafted to conform with the recommendations of Postmaster General New, which called for sharp increases on second and third-class matter, the parcels post, parcel insurance, money orders, registered letters, special deliveries and C. O. D. service. The bulk of the raise, however, would fall upon newspapers, magazines and other periodicals.

Sterling planned to confer today with other administration leaders to map out a program of procedure. The rate measure either will be introduced separately or it will be linked with the postal salary bill, which President Coolidge vetoed last spring. The salary bill meanwhile remains before the Senate, with its authors seeking to postpone a vote to override the veto until after the rate measure has been considered.

Organize Opposition

Opposition to the proposed rate increases was being organized by the American Newspaper Publishers' association which condemned the new schedule as certain to "absolutely prohibit the circulation of newspapers in the mail."

The association objected particularly to a 100 per cent rate increase urged by New on second class mail in the first and second zones. This rate would affect every newspaper, because of the distribution of country circulation in the mails.

The schedule also found critics in the Senate, where some condemned the administration "for attempting to defeat the pay bill by linking it to a revenue measure."

Business District of Boom Town Burned

CROMWELL, Okla., Dec. 15.—Guards today were patrolling the ashes of Cromwell—famous boom town of the oil fields—as most of its business district lay in ruins, following a disastrous fire which began yesterday morning and burned throughout the day. Looting started while the flames were still raging.

Officials today began an investigation of reports that the fire started from bombs set off near the Murphy dance hall, because of the expose that touched three states. The body of a man was found in the ruins and two dance hall girls are missing.

New Postal Rate Schedule To Be Offered In Senate Tomorrow, Is Announced

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The administration's new postal rate schedule, intended to raise $68,000,000 from advanced charges on second, third and fourth class mail service, will be linked to the vetoed postal salary bill and introduced as a joint measure in the Senate tomorrow, it was announced this afternoon by Senator Sterling, Republican, of South Dakota, chairman of the Senate postoffice committee.

This action will be taken on the recommendation of Postmaster-General New, Sterling said, in an effort to meet President Coolidge's objections to salary increases for postal employes. The move, however, was opposed by Democratic senators favoring the pay increases, who denounced it as a scheme to defeat the pay bill.

SCIENTISTS HEAR GUY MOORE TALK

Speaker at Occult Church Sees Marked Change In World Belief

Guy Moore, speaker in the Occult Science of Christ Church, 113 South Orange street, spoke last night on "The New Tablet of the Law." He said:

"A careful observer of the religious situation in the world today cannot but see that a marked change is becoming evident in connection with what were, formerly, fundamental religious teachings and beliefs. Perhaps the most profound of these is slow transformation of the conception of God. Several generations ago, the conception that the word 'God' brought to the minds of most people was that of a wrathful Being who was ready, perhaps eager, to punish and condemn all who transgressed the law that He was supposed to have imposed upon us for all time. That illogical and repellent conception is, happily, gradually being replaced by the idea that God is good, that He is not a wrathful God to be feared, but that He is a loving one to be loved. The logical deduction from this new realization is that belief that one now finds prevalent in many a Church, that there is no Hell.

Second Great Idea

"A second great idea that is now being realized in many religious organizations is the belief that God is not only good, but that He dwells within us. The old conception of a Deity whose abode was above and beyond our world, in some heaven, and for whom the earth served as a 'footstool', is practically gone. More and more, it seems, thinking people of the churches are feeling it necessary to believe that there is no division between the nature of God and that of man, and, to put it briefly, that in some mysterious fashion we are God ourselves.

"Now these two great ideas, that God is good and that He dwells within every living thing, are two of those new and progressive religious conceptions that really are constituting a New Tablet of the Law which is superseding and rendering obsolete the old Mosaic Tablet which, I feel, we had long outgrown. In view of these new and more potent realizations that are now becoming ours, let us go forward to the accomplishment of the future without fear of God or man, basing our actions and beliefs upon this New and more splendid Tablet of the Law, in order that we may carry forth God's Plan among men."

CHURCH GOING IS PASTOR'S SERMON

Dr. Winnard Cites Seven Given By Merchant As Argument

"Reasons for Attending Church Services" was the sermon given by Dr. James F. Winnard, pastor of the Tropico Presbyterian church yesterday morning. He had previously sent letters to all the members asking that they mail him their personal reasons for attending church on Sundays. Most of the reasons, he said, may be summed up in the testimony of one business man who gave the following reasons:

"I attend church because I am a Christian.

"Because of my love for my Savior.

"Because I want to learn all I can and be of some service in His work.

"Because I try to keep the Sabbath day holy.

"Because I love to worship my Savior Jesus Christ.

"Because I am sure it is my duty and if I stay away my conscience hurts.

"Because of my love for my pastor."

At the evening service Dr. Winnard discussed the reasons why some people do not attend church services. "Aside from three who were kept away by sickness," he said, "there was not a single satisfactory reason given for not being present at the regular services of the church."

Adventist Camp to Go Up In Sawpit Canyon

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 15.—The establishment of a Seventh Dad Adventist camp at the foot of Sawpit canyon, thirty-five miles from this city, is contemplated by Loma Linda people, according to Fred Jeken, deputy forest supervisor here. The summer colony will be located on the Carl N. Hewit homestead. Plans were made public through negotiations to purchase a million feet of lumber from the forest service.

Evangelistic services are being held at the Montrose Methodist church, corner of Montrose and Orangedale avenues by Captain Ted Evans. Special music is rendered at each service.

SENTIMENT PLUS RELIGION SERMON

Rev. Calderwood Talks On Place Heart And Mind Have In Church

Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor of the Congregational church took as his subject "Sentiment in Religion" for his sermon yesterday morning. He said:

"God has given us intelligence and we should use what we have. Reason is a vital part of religious activity. 'Come now let us reason together.' A great effort of Jesus' life was to get men to think straight. Paul was always reasoning with men. We are asked to love the Lord our God with our minds. But we are more than logic machines. A geometry or an algebra may be perfectly true but they do not compass all of life. There are great regions of our personalities that reason never touches.

"Religion without sentiment is a life without loves. The finer things in our lives cannot be described or demonstrated. We know ofttimes that our whole beings are transformed by sentiments. There is the lock of hair, the photograph, the old book, the letter, the child's shoe, the building, our alma mater; little things and big things made invaluable by sentiment.

Hearts Plus Mind

"Man does not live by common sense alone. Reason may point to some judgment as definite as the north star but just as remote from our loves and experiences. It is the sentiment that we weave around a thing that warms our hearts. We are hearts as well as heads and 'out of the heart are the issues of life.' 'As a man thinketh in his heart,' not in his head, 'so is he.' We are to love God with our hearts as well as our minds.

"God loves us. Jesus loved us and for love and sentiment gave his life. People have done mighty and heroic things for sentiment. Our religion must not be cold and calculating. Sometimes it must be unreasonable, and because of it we must do unreasonable things. There is no reason in sacrifice, but there is beautiful sentiment.

"It is worth while to keep alive and nourish our better sentiments. Let the old song stir you once again, read out of the old book again, sit in the old pew again, read Mother's letter again, think of a loving and dying Saviour again, love the old loves again and life is made richer and sweeter."

PSALMS TAKEN AS LUTHERAN TALK

Rev. Kringel Says These Are 'Prayer Book Of Bible'

"Thy Word is a Light Unto My Path" was the subject of the sermon delivered yesterday morning by Rev. Henry O. Kringel at the services at the Zion Lutheran church, corner of North Isabel street and East California avenue. He said:

"'Thy Work is a Light Unto My Path.' This text is taken from the Psalms. The Psalms are the prayer book of the Bible. That Christian is to be pitied who has not learned to pray, to sing, to weep and to rejoice with David, Asaph, and others in the Psalms. Here in the Psalms the child of God can always find expression for the joy and the cries of his heart. There is a holy fire in them that can fill us with glowing joy in the midst of this cold world.

"The Psalm from which our passage has been taken, contains 176 verses. But it is just as deep and broad as it is long. This 119th Psalm is a hymn on the Word of God in 176 variations, one subject, but not one repetition, one theme, but not one idle word. The entire Psalm is evidence that the Psalmist spoke the truth when, in the 111th verse, he declares of the word of God: 'Thy Testimonies have I taken as an heritage forever; for they are the rejoicing of my heart.'

Longest of Psalms

"Some may fall asleep while reading this—the longest of the Psalms, but whoever can say of the Word of God that it is the rejoicing of his heart, he will read and re-read this very Psalm with increasing delight. In matters pertaining to this earthly life only, God has generally left man to learn and advance by means of his senses and experience.

"For instance, God has never told us how to treat certain bodily diseases. By painstaking study and careful experience man has advanced in his knowledge of diseases and their cure. And so it is also in political science, commerce, shipping, railroading and hundreds of other things that pertain to this earthly life. There is one question however, which God has not left for man to answer. God has settled it beyond a doubt. It is this 'What must I do to be saved?'

"This question concerns eternity, judgment, heaven and hell. God has answered this question in His Word, the Bible. God is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance of their sins and unto faith in the only begotten Son, Jesus Christ, for in Him we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of His grace."

AT VERDUGO CITY

VERDUGO CITY, Dec. 15.—"A Night in Hawaii" ended a perfect day in Verdugo City on Saturday when the entire Fowler building, which has just been completed at a cost in excess of $50,000, was formally opened to the public of La Crescenta valley. During the day the stores and market on the ground floor were opened in fitting style. Cobbs' grocery had four demonstrators of various foods to present their wares to the housewife, the Hodensack meat market also had a demonstrator present.

Flowers in the market made the occasion a festive one in appearance, baskets expressing the compliments of the donors being noticed from the Verdugo City Drug store, Mrs. A. Bert and Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Fowler. The firms having space in the new market are: A .T. Cobb Grocery Co., Tomerline's vegetable stand, Hodensack meat market and Mrs. Margery Tomerline's bakery.

At 8:30 o'clock the auditorium upstairs was thrown open. The auditorium was decorated in hangings of soft orange tones with curtains of cream-colored silk marquiset which blend harmoniously with the blue-toned walls.

As a complete surprise to Harry Fowler, president of Verdugo City Association of Commerce, his fellow members sent a huge floral horse shoe. Mr. Fowler expressed his appreciation of the thoughtfulness of the association members. Other large pieces were from the May & Hellman Co. of Glendale, who constructed the building; California Glass & Paint Co., Coker & Taylor, Glendale, and numerous baskets from personal friends.

As each person came up the stairs they were presented with a leii. Three native Hawaiians played during the program, singing during some of the numbers. Refreshments consisting of cake, sandwiches and punch were served by Arthur Sitch. The novelty feature was the prize waltz, the contestants having to dance the old-fashioned waltz minus any of the modern steps. The first prize, a large box of bon bons, went to Mrs. A. Gorham of Arcadia; the second prize of the same sort was awarded to Mrs. Sherman Young of Montrose, while the bottle of pickles went to Mrs. F. Fleming and E. Reiger of Verdugo City.

Members of the committee on arrangements were F. Fleming, George Hansen, E. Busch and Tom Benito, jr., G. Bowlus and E. Rieger.

During the event the La Crescenta valley fire engine was brought from retirement in Los Angeles and placed on exhibition on the sidewalk with Fire Chief Duncan in full uniform in charge.

CAMP FOLLOWERS TEXT OF SERMON

Rev. Thomas Tells Grand View Church-Goers To Join Army

Rev. George W. Thomas, pastor of the Grand View Community church, took as his theme, "Camp Followers, or Soldiers" for his sermon yesterday morning. He said:

"There are two kinds of people in every congregation, and too often the same two kinds in the membership of the church. The proper conception of the church is that the army of the Lord, fighting the battles of light against darkness, good against evil, joy against sorrow, enlightment against ignorance, hope against despair, life against death. The church militant is the grandest army that ever marched beneath the sun.

"In the challenge of its conflicts is found the great moral equivalent of war. Its wars are fought to redeem and to build, never to destroy mankind. But in every war of history there have been the soldiers who fought and put all they had and all they were into the cause, and there have also been the camp followers who lived off the rations, the pay, the sacrifices and the victories of the soldiers and got all they could out of the cause.

"Every general and every true soldier has contempt for them while they remain camp followers. But when they get the vision and turn into soldiers, ah, that is different. The great problem of the church today is to turn all its camp followers and spiritual profiteers into good soldiers.

"Are you a camp follower or a soldier? Identify yourself. The true marks of a soldier are these: loyalty to the cause, that brings sacrificial obedience; willingness to endure hardship and willingness to co-operate, which brings victory. Identify yourself, so that your friends and your Lord can identify you."

MONTROSE NOTES

MONTROSE, Dec. 15.—Tomorrow afternoon the children of the Montrose school will present a program for parents at the Montrose Community church, as the school auditorium has not the seating capacity needed for the occasion. Practically all of the grades are participating in the affair, which will be in the nature of a Christmas play, with the added feature of music by the La Crescenta school orchestra. Rumors are also abroad that Santa Claus himself is to be present, which will add to the gaiety of the afternoon's entertainment. Every parent and child in the valley is invited. The program will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

The children of Mrs. Eichbauer's private school gave a very enjoyable entertainment and program, full of the Christmas theme at the home of Mrs. T. C. Potts. The home was gayly decorated with holiday greens and brilliant trimmings of silver and red. The main feature of the program was the play given by all the pupils, entitled "The Doll's Wish." Helen Potts, who is a pupil of Miss Marie Walsh in expression, recited "Kittie's Baby" and, as an encore, "Dear Old Santa Claus." "Songs of Yuletide," also folk dances in keeping with the season, were given by the school. Miss Margaret Eichbauer played "Minuet in G Minor," also "Poem in G Major." while her sister, Elizabeth, gave "Alegro," by Mozart, and "In the Hayfield," by Mokreys.

Children who enjoyed the afternoon were Jean Nielson, Alan Spiher Jr., Hope Harper, Margaret and Elizabeth Eichbauer, Philip Van Deusen, Douglas Porteous, Katherine Brooke, Robert Clark and Helen Potts.

SUNLAND NOTES

SUNLAND, Dec. 15.—Petitions for incorporation have been circulated among the electors of Sunland and a hearing before the county supervisors will be held at soon as the preliminary details are completed. More than the required number of signatures were secured and the circulators of the petitions report that there is apparently little opposition to the proposition to incorporate Sunland as a city of the sixth class. The boundary line on the east is a line east of Palm avenue, and, if adopted, would place five acres of Tujunga school board property in the city of Sunland. A first grade department for Tujunga children is now being conducted on the property. The western line is the Los Angeles city limits line, across the Tujunga wash.

Tomorrow, December 16, there will be a Christmas entertainment at the Sunland school house, with a Christmas tree for the children. A series of Christmas tableaux will be given and a chorus will sing carols.

Twenty conversions are the result of the revival meetings that have been held at the Baptist church by Rev. W. E. Smith, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Hermiston and C. E. Bodenhousen. Six baptisms were made Sunday evening.

A substantial sum was added to the Christmas fund for the Sunland children at a silver tea and musicale recently given by the Parent-Teacher association.

INJUNCTION ON ASSESSMENT IS PLAN

Property Owners Prepare to Take Legal Steps In Canyon Road Fight

Two important steps preparatory to filing injunction proceedings against the city of Glendale in the controversy over the Sycamore Canyon road assessment were taken Saturday night and today when a protest, declaring the assessment to be illegal was drawn up and signed by seventy-six property owners and plans for hiring an attorney and conducting a preliminary survey of the legal status of the case were laid.

The protest against the assessment district was drawn up by Attorney Kemper Cambell, one of the property owners involved in the controversy. He presented it at a mass meeting of citizens at the Glendale Intermediate school Saturday night and it was signed by all those present. Attorney Cambell explained that this is the first step towards seeking an injunction and is required by law in the event any further legal action is to be taken. It will be presented to the City Council on or before December 18.

The assessment committee of the Southeast Glendale Improvement association met last night and completed plans for collecting sufficient funds to hire an attorney to conduct a preliminary investigation of the assessment proceedings.

To Cover District

This investigation was suggested by Mr. Cambell, who declared three classes of property owners were affected by the assessment. He said that if it were found that the actual assessment proceedings were conducted in a legal valid manner, there would remain only a question as to the fairness of the distribution of the assessment, and that this angle would affect only a minority number of the property owners. The survey, it is believed, will determine these points definitely.

It is the plan of the committee to cover the entire assessment district, seeking funds to assist in the preliminary legal work. Canvassing of the district was commenced today. R. Belcher, chairman, announced that, either Kemper Cambell or some one he would suggest would be the attorney retained. At the meeting Saturday night Mr. Cambell asked that he not be considered but that some other attorney be hired to handle the fight.

Passes Away

MRS. BARONECE HELENE STEWART, who died at her home in Glendale today.

Mrs. Baronece Helene Stewart, wife of James T. Stewart, owner of the C. & S. cafeteria, died this morning, Monday, December 15, 1924, at the family home, 346 West Doran street. She had been in poor health for several months. News of her death will bring sadness to a wide circle of friends in Glendale and in Missouri and Michigan, where the family formerly lived.

Baronece Helene Bettis was born January 14, 1894, in St. Joseph, Missouri. There she grew to girlhood and attended school. For a time she lived with her family in Michigan. Later they again resided in St. Joseph. In both states they have hosts of friends. It was in St. Joseph that the Stewarts were married in 1914. They have resided in Glendale since December 5, 1915.

Just a year ago in September Mr. and Mrs. Stewart enjoyed a motor trip of over 1500 miles to visit relatives and friends in Missouri. The trip, while filled with happy renewals of associations and friendships, was very strenuous for Mrs. Stewart, whose health became weaker after her return home.

Surviving the deceased are her husband, James T. Stewart; a little daughter, Betty Jane; her mother, Mrs. W. J. Stocker of 600

TEACHERS SET FOR ANNUAL INSTITUTE

While 7,500 Pupils Take Holiday 316 Mentors Will Convene

While the 7500 pupils enrolled in the twelve elementary and two high schools of this city are enjoying Christmas vacation that began with the closing of school last Friday and continues until Monday, December 29, their 316 teachers are preparing to spend Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week at the Teachers' institute, which opened today in Los Angeles.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, and George U. Moyse, Glendale Union High school principal, will be among those in attendance. The state law requires all teachers in the public school system to put in five days each year at institute. As the Glendale teachers already have credit for one day in October and one day in November of the present year, it is pointed out, three more days is the maximum they are required to attend although many will put in additional time.

General Sessions

General sessions for elementary and kindergarten teachers opened today at the Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles, and for secondary school teachers the sessions opened today at the Trinity auditorium. The principal morning speaker at the Philharmonic auditorium was Alfred M. Hitchcock, supervisor of English for the Hartford, Conn., elementary schools. Professor Wallace Miller of the University of Missouri also spoke. At the Trinity auditorium, the principal morning address was given by Professor H. H. Newman of the University of Chicago. Arthur D. Dean, former instructor at the Columbia university, also spoke.

A number of Glendale Union High school teachers will attend the lectures tomorrow at the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Mr. Moyse said. Professor Robert A. Millikan, world-famous scientist, and winner of the 1923 Nobel prize for physics, will discuss the atom. Ernest C. Watson, associate professor of physics at Caltek, will also speak.

Give Yourself With Gift

The true Yuletide spirit is not expressed unless the thought of the giver goes with the Christmas present, as one poet summarizes it: "The gift without the giver is bare." Little things, made easily, will carry the holiday spirit better than expensive articles, bought with only a sense of duty.

By MRS. MARY MORTON
Written for The Evening News.

Giving yourself with your gift. That's the secret of successful Christmas giving. Who wants a gift that cost no one any time or thought; that is picked at random out of a collection of things with the remark: "Here, send this to so and so. I've got to send her something and this will suit as well as anything." Probably followed by the comment, "That probably cost as much as the thing she sent me last year."

Doesn't it make you want to flee to the uttermost parts of the earth to get away from such mental approach to the jolliest and kindest holiday season of the whole year? If we had our way no one would be cold, hungry or forgotten at Christmas time. What do we want most, all of us? Is it material things? Isn't it just to be remembered.

A cheery letter, a card with a pretty verse and a friend's name scribbled thereon, are much, much better than an expensive gift that had no loving thought to prompt its sending. There are many things you can make yourself—pretty and useful things—sewing or pasting bits of yourself into the present. For you cannot work on something for a person and not think a good deal about the recipient and your thoughts are apt to be very kind.

The craze for making things from sealing wax and crepe paper has by no means died down. Necklaces, pendants, hand-decorated candles, vases and lamps are among the many pretty, inexpensive things you may make. Pretty baskets that are so effective for holding the new dried and painted flowers and grasses are easily made by weaving twisted

COLLEGE CLUB GIVES XMAS PROGRAM

Women Discuss Cultural Requirements Predicted For Entrance

Discussion of possible cultural entrance requirements by California universities was heard Saturday afternoon at the meeting of Glendale College Women's club at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Action was deferred until more thorough knowledge of the subject is had, it was said. Mrs. Frank W. Parr, club president, presided.

In keeping with the holiday spirit were the Christmas decorations. Red carnations and poinsettias and greenery carried out the Christmas color scheme, red and green. In the tea room, Miss Clara Lauderdale, chairman, had arranged a table with Christmas flowers and red candles.

Christmas Singing

Christmas carols of various countries were sung by the Madrigal club trio, Mesdames Frank Arnold, Charles A. Parker and A. M. Draper. Mrs. Perry Rogers was accompanist. They sang the American carol "Sleep Holy Babe" (Matthews); Bohemian, "Come All Ye Shepherds" (Riedel); English, "Christmas Carol" (Shelley); French, "Holly and the Berry."

Featuring the program was a review reading by Mrs. Max Lynn Green of the play "Mary the Third" by Crothers. The play deals with problems of the home and young people. Mrs. Green made a plea to mothers for a better understanding of young people.

Guessing Contest Is Opened by Drug Store

NAZARENES IN DEDICATION SERVICES

New First Church Built On Acacia Avenue Is Thrown Open

The new First Church of the Nazarene at 417 East Acacia avenue was dedicated with special services yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. James I. Hill of Pasadena, district church superintendent, officiated, and gave the dedicatory address. A large congregation of Glendale Nazarenes and their friends attended. Special musical numbers, including a vocal duet by Rev. H. A. Scheideman, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Edna Valjean of Los Angeles, and a solo by Mrs. Loretta Hull, also of Los Angeles, featured the service. Vernon Wilson, church pianist, accompanied. About $1200 for improvements on the church were raised through voluntary subscriptions at the service.

The afternoon service was followed by a special meeting of the Young People's society, at which a young people's choir was organized under the direction of Doty L. Anderson. Vernon Wilcox is president of the society.

Special observances throughout the day marked the dedication. In the morning, at 10:30 o'clock, Rev. Hill spoke on "Resisting the Holy Ghost." At the regular night service, Rev. Fred St. Clair, evangelist, preached on "Striving With the Holy Spirit." A quartet composed of Rev. and Mrs. Scheideman, W. C. Blake and Mrs. Valjean rendered "Constantly Abiding.' There were a solo by Mrs. Hull and numbers by the newly-organized young people's choir.

Men's Club to Elect Officers on Tuesday

Officers will be elected by the Men's club of the First Congregational church at the dinner meeting Tuesday night at the church. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock. H. C. Wilcox, retiring president, will preside over a business hour.

ARE YOU SATISFIED

With a Guarantee of 8%, With the Possibility of Making 100% Upon the Soundest Real Estate Investments in Glendale

I ran an ad in Monday's News where I advertised eight lots for $5000.00 each, $2500.00 down and $2500.00 in three years, guaranteeing that, if in one year you have not sold these lots at a profit, I would buy them back, paying you 8% on your investment plus all expenses for escrows and taxes that you may have paid out. This guarantee gives you the advantage of taking the profit upon the increase which there is bound to be upon these lots. They are now $1000.00 underpriced, and on December 20th I will raise the price of these lots to $6000.00, and they will never again be a cent less. I still have five of these lots left.

How long are you going to read about the great increase in value in San Fernando Road Industrial property without taking advantage of it?

According to your leading Realtors in this city, I paid six times the value of this property when I bought it two years ago. The lots in this district cost me less than $1100.00 each, and today they are selling from $6000.00 to $15,000.00. Now, when are you going to share in the profits?

You know that I advertised in 1922 and 1923, offering to buy back any property that I had sold, paying 33⅓ per cent annually on the investment. When I sold this property I did not guarantee to buy it back, but I told the investors that they could make at least 10 per cent on their investment. I am more convinced in my mind now than ever that the future opportunities for profit are greater than those of the past.

I am constructing buildings as fast as I can raise the money to build them. Every time I erect a building I increase the value of this property. I know the value of industrial property in this territory, and if you will take time to investigate or have any Realtor in this city investigate this for you, you will find that I am giving you a price of from $1000.00 to $3500.00 cheaper than any lot in the Industrial District.

Buy this property through your own broker. There isn't a Real Estate broker in Glendale but what knows that my statements are facts. I have to have co-operation to build this district up, and I am getting it.

As I was told a year ago by a leading banker, it is the hardest thing in the world to put money in people's pockets. Now, take $2500.00 and purchase one of these lots before December 20th and make yourself a profit of not less than $2500.00 in less than three years.

Remember, I sell these with a guarantee to give you your money back in one year, if you are not satisfied, plus 8% on every dollar you have invested.

Daily Greeting to News Readers

WE MUST RESPECT—
Our children's rights if they ever respect ours.
Our neighbors if we are to have standing in the community.
Our government if we live under its protection.
Our work if we are to get the fun out of it.
Our homes if they are to be the nation's strength.
Our word if we are to have credit at the bank.

TRY GLENDALE FIRST

When the Chamber of Commerce inaugurated a campaign to "Try Glendale First" and to "Trade in Glendale," it set in motion machinery that will develop a Greater Glendale. A well-known axiom might be paraphrased to read, "A city divided against itself cannot grow." A city to enjoy the greatest good and the greatest growth must be in accord. There must be co-operation among all of its elements.

Glendale people should employ Glendale workmen and patronize Glendale merchants. This is the only course to pursue even from a selfish standpoint. For whatever makes Glendale stronger, richer and greater works to the advantage of all of us who live here.

When a man applies for a position, when he meets a prospect hoping to make a sale or close a deal of some kind, or when he goes out socially he tries to make the best appearance possible. He must be neat and well-groomed, for if he makes a poor appearance, if he is unattractive, he may not be given a hearing, he may not have the opportunity to present his arguments and tell his story.

The same thing is true of a city. Its business section is its outward appearance, for it is the part the visitor sees first. And if it is not attractive and up-to-date the city may not get a further hearing. But if its stores and offices are attractive and show signs of life and activity the visitor who is looking for a place to locate will investigate further, will give us a chance to tell about our many advantages that are not apparent at the first glance.

So it is important to every resident of Glendale, especially every property owner, that our business centers be attractive and our business men be alert, for it is this that attracts new people, and a growing population means rising property values. But, the merchants, to maintain places of business representative of a city like Glendale, must have the support of Glendale people.

There is sufficient building and other development work being done in Glendale to maintain an army of workers, and it is essential that Glendale should employ her own people. Other communities look after their own, and we must do the same. And it is even more necessary that those who are in business, who have made large investments, perhaps, and who have put their faith as well as their money into Glendale and are helping us to make a good appearance, should have our patronage.

The Glendale Evening News has always realized the importance of patronizing home effort in developing the community and emphasized the importance of co-operation between the citizens on one hand and the workers and the merchants on the other, and we promise our support to this campaign. We will use our influence to encourage institutions that will help to build up Glendale and likewise, discourage those whose object is to take trade and employment away from Glendale people.

FEDERAL BUILDING

The Pomona Chamber of Commerce has sent to Congressman Walter F. Lineberger at Washington a petition for a federal building for Pomona to house the postoffice and other federal agencies of the district. The committee asks that a sum that will at least cover the purchase of a suitable site for such a building be included in the general omnibus bill soon to come before Congress. The committee states that it does not hope to have a federal building erected in the near future, but it believes this is the logical time to purchase a site and to launch an effort for a building.

Pomona wants a two-story and basement federal building to cost in the neighborhood of $100,000, the lower floor and basement to be devoted to the postoffice and the upper floor to other federal activities such as the farm bureau, the weather bureau, forestry work and internal revenue collector. The Pomona committee announces its intention of keeping this matter before Congressman Lineberger.

Is not this a hint for Glendale? Pomona's population is about a third that of Glendale, and a federal building would be three times more appreciated here. With the president determined to keep appropriations within the budget, and with the postal employes clamoring for an increase in pay, conditions do not look very favorable for the erection of many federal buildings very soon. But at the same time why should we not "get our bid in" for a federal building and keep the matter before Congressman Lineberger?

PROHIBITION'S RECORD

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America, in a speech recently named some of the achievements of prohibition. They include a reduction in the mortality rate, a lowering of industrial accidents, the elimination of a large per cent of drink-caused poverty, a halting of the growth of the nations' penal population and the emptying of many of its jails, the stimulation of all legitimate business, the booming of home building, giving men and women an opportunity to enjoy normal amusements and sports, doubling the number of the nation's investors, while breaking all savings bank and insurance records.

A great deal of emphasis is placed upon the illegal traffic in liquor by opponents of prohibition in an effort to prove that the 18th amendment is impractical and unenforceable. The wonder of it is that prohibition could have made such strides in so short a time, for such radical reforms as doing away with the traffic in liquor are not accomplished over night.

LA FOLLETTE MADE US THINK

A very prominent lawyer said the other day, "My observation leads me to believe that on the whole it was a good thing for the country that Senator La Follette was a candidate for president on the platform which he dictated. His proposal for the government to buy or condemn the railroads and operate them, and his proposal to do away with the power of the United States supreme court to declare an act of Congress unconstitutional, have really been considered by the people as they never would have been without the issues being joined, and it seems to me the issues have been settled and settled right. If such be the fact, is not the country rather indebted to Senator La Follette than endangered by his radical proposals?"

It is a truth that we do not prize our possessions and our institutions until they are threatened. At least, Senator La Follette did a good thing when he set the electorate of America to thinking.

Beauty note: No, crime waves are not permanent.

TWO MORE JONAHS!

Are Modern Women Losing Their Beauty?

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Jean Gabriel Doumergue, a French painter, says that women were fifty per cent more beautiful fifty years ago than they are now.

American artists seem to think differently.

M. Doumergue says that women nowadays are too pampered, take too little exercise, and eat and drink too much. The habit of having their own way has given their faces a peculiarly peevish attitude that is not at all conducive to beauty.

Mr. Howard Chandler Christy, on the contrary, the famous American artist and acknowledged judge of feminine beauty, said that he had never heard of M. Doumergue, but if the gentleman had recently been at Atlantic City and seen the Beauty Show he would have changed his mind. There he would have seen eighty-three girls whose beauty compared favorably with the beauties of fifty years ago.

Mr. Christy, however, agreed with M. Doumergue in one respect, that is, that drinking is one of the worst enemies of feminine beauty. "Aside from the moral question," he said, "it will ruin any girl's good looks. Drinking leaves a strained expression. It will destroy the most beautiful face ever made."

Harrison Fisher, the noted magazine cover artist, also disagrees with M. Doumergue. While he says that he cannot speak with authority of the ladies of fifty years ago, as he was not painting then, judging by the paintings he has seen he would judge that the young girls of today are more beautiful than their grandmothers.

This, if for no other reason, is due to the modern sensible dress. Freedom of limb movement and the athletics of today tend to make women beautiful.

Beauty is a matter of what you are accustomed to. Most of us would think that the women we have to do with are more beautiful than the women of other times and other places.

Horoscope

Although Venus is in benefic aspect, it is read as an unfortunate rule by astrologers, for Saturn, Mars and Jupiter are all adverse.

There is a fairly favorable sign for all who sell merchandise that women covet and it should be rather a lucky day for shopping.

Under this direction of the stars women may be avid for romance and may be inclined to take the initiative in the sending of notes or messages, so men may well be on their guard.

The seers declare that more than ever before girls will demand from men many attentions that will be costly and will involve serious consequences.

It is significant that under this direction of the stars, which influences women toward the pursuit of romance, sinister planets threaten.

There is a sign that certainly indicates the most widespread discontent among workers and persons of moderate means.

Unless the seers are wrong the new year is to be a time that is of supreme significance in world history.

Errors, misunderstandings, deceptions and disappointments appear to be forecast for today, so it is wise to be very circumspect in social as well as business affairs.

The aspect of the Moon today is said to be likely to produce vivid and even symbolical dreams.

Persons who have amassed great wealth or have climbed high in governmental affairs should be on their guard, for they will be the targets of thoughts of extraordinary malice as popular discontent is fomented by secret influences.

Jupiter is in an aspect that is held to retard a return to great prosperity, although business will constantly improve in many lines of activity.

Theatres and places of amusement should have a winter of much prosperity, for there will be a great craving for entertainment that banishes dull care.

Persons whose birthdate it is may expect much profit in business during the coming year. They should guard against domestic dissensions. Young girls probably will have many suitors.

Children born on this day may be rather too care-free for their own good. These subjects of Sagittarius usually crave travel and change; they put amusement before work, but generally succeed in making their lives successful as well as pleasant.

Puzzle

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE

The words start in the numbered squares and run either the proper words are found each combination of letters is placed in each write square. If the proper combination of letters in the white squares will form works. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

(Running Across)

Word 1. What teacher called the boy in the picture.

Word 4. What little friends should never do to each other.

Word 7. Is the missing word in the sentence: "The dunce thought it a great———of time to study."

(Running Down)

Word 1. The first word of the scale you sing at school.

Word 2. What carpenters use in fastening boards together.

Word 3. A boy's name.

Word 5. Is what the boy said when the teacher spatted him.

Word 6. Is the one who is solving this puzzle.

"Well, Hiram, I'll meet you here next Monday," said Rube as the two were parting after their weekly chat on the steps of the town hall.

"Yes, Rube, but what if it should rain?"

"Well, if it should, I'll meet you on Sunday."

Today's Poem

MY PAL

Some one is looking for me,
And I am looking for him.
He probably never saw me,
I probably never saw him.

But whether in glory of morning
Or at tranquil end of day,
Each is secretly longing
For the other to come his way.

Perchance we have passed in the night time,
When beneath the starlight dim,
His face was not plain to me,
And mine was not plain to him.

Perhaps we have passed in the mid day,
When glamour and worldly whim
Blinded his eyes to me,
And dulled my own to him.

In every face that I pass,
As through the crowd I go,
I am always looking for eyes,
That my own shall surely know.

Never shall life's duller hours
Deprive me the hope to find
Him in whose heart there is dwelling
A hope of a similar kind.

I know some day I shall meet him;
I know not where nor when,
But I shall be silently seeking
From this day until then.

Glendale has been enjoying recently some rare volcanic pictures. The peak north direct on Brand boulevard has been specially favored with cloud-caps, seemingly a part of the mountain, yet shaping up pyramidal much resembling Aetna or Vesuvius, and at the apex smoke seemed to emit as from a crater. Omitting the flame of the actual eruptions the Glendale type is just as beautiful, while it lasts, and it is not at all dangerous.

Owners of property abutting the thirty feet strip west of the Glendael Union High school, where formerly Maryland avenue extended to Colorado boulevard, wish that portion opened as a street and improved. They also want a name for the street.

An application has been favored for O. A. Fish to open a filling station at the northeast corner of Glendale and Colorado boulevard.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

If you have been following this series of presentations of the proverbs of the various peoples, you probably have noticed that, while there is a distinct flavor to the maxims of each people, they all have a common foundation. After all there is only one wisdom, as was discovered long ago.

Note the similarity in spirit of the proverbs of India, to which this column is devoted today, to those of other races. (This is Number 5 of the series.)

Time flies, words last.

Who will praise the bridegroom? His own mother.

Anything that blossoms must also decay.

A small leak will sink a big ship.

Depend on others and you will always repent.

An open enemy is better than a secret friend.

Where there is a surfeit of words there is a famine of intelligence.

Two quarrel and a third profits by it.

Personal experience is better to follow than the scriptures.

There are as many characters as there are individuals.

The crow was killed by the storm: he died by my curse, says the owl.

One does not know the worth of teeth while they last.

Where the corpse is, there will the vulture be.

All are ready to be partners in a man's success, none in his misfortunes.

One woman is wealth to you, another is ruination.

The tongue is a sword; the tongue kills and the tongue saves.

Where there are no trees the castor-oil plant is looked upon as a big tree.

If taken to excess even nectar is a poison.

Famine destroys when it ceases.

If one only knows the matter it is secret, if two it is public.

* * *

The handle of the ax is the enemy of its family.

Marry the daughter on knowing the mother.

CULTURE

A young woman just home from college was very enthusiastic about the wonderful benefits of physical culture. She said to her father:

"Just watch this exercise. To develop the arms, I grasp the rod by one end and move it slowly from right to left."

"Well, well," exclaimed her father. "What science won't discover next. If that rod had straw at the other end, you'd be sweeping."

DESCRIBED

He was wandering around aimlessly in a department store when the floorwalker approached him.

"Looking for something?" he asked.

"Yes, my wife," replied the man.

"Would you mind describing her, please?"

"Well, she's a sort of limousine, with heavy tread, and usually runs in low."

ONLY A COHENCIDENCE

"Yes," said the dark man, "my name is Isaac Abraham Jacob Cohen, but I don't like it. It cost me $20 the other day."

"How was that?"

"It vas this vay. I vas in court, and the judge said to me, 'Vat i your name?' and I said 'Isaac Abraham Jacob Cohen,' and he said, 'Are you a Jew?' and I said 'Don't be a fool,' and he said, '$20 fine'."

An egg weighing eleven ounces, believed to be the largest on record, was laid recently by an Oregon hen.

PROPOSED TAX MEASURE IS DISCUSSED

Added Costs to Motorists Estimated If Gasoline Rate Increased

The following article is taken from the Standard Oil Bulletin, December issue, and deals with the question of more taxes for motorists. The Bulletin is published by the Standard Oil Co., (California), of San Francisco.

An economically unsound proposal has been made in California for an increase in the tax on gasoline, and there are reports that similar suggestions have been made in other Pacific coast states.

The gasoline tax, originating on the Pacific coast five years ago, has proved quite contagious, and it is now in effect in some thirty-six states. Its alleged popularity is largely due to its apparent ease of collection, brought about by saddling the work and expense upon oil companies, and to a feeling that the motorists who use roads should pay for them, even though this in realty means that a decided minority of the people are made to pay for public improvements which are of unquestionable value and benefit to the whole people.

Those who propose the new California tax ignore this very important economic principle. In California there is one motor car to every 3.5 or 4 people in the state. Under this new proposal between 25 per cent and 30 per cent of the people would pay for improvements of obvious benefit to all the rest of the people, who pay nothing.

All Are Benefited

Good roads inevitably benefit all—they increase business in towns, they enhance property values in the country or wherever they pass. For example, a man may own inaccessible property worth fifty dollars an acre. A new state highway passes through and the land becomes worth, possibly, one hundred dollars or more per acre. Yet under this proposed way of financing highway construction—a new way in California and a departure from the policy which created the present splendid highway system—the fortunate property owner pays nothing for the highway beyond, perhaps, ten or twenty dollars a year if he happens to own a motor car.

In California there are no direct state taxes on individuals, other than motor vehicle taxes, the revenues of the state being principally derived from taxes on public and private corporations. Under the proposals which have been made, the present generation would pay for things of benefit to future generations, again a radical departure from the accepted theory of financing permanent public improvements of any character.

The proposed taxes will place a new burden upon an already heavily taxed motorist and upon motor vehicle operation, which is calculated to have a bad effect upon the automobile industry. Motor cars are now taxed in many ways, and each additional tax increases sales resistance, something to which the motor car dealers of the state should give attention.

Motorists' Taxes

The motorist's list of taxes is formidable. First there is a 5 per cent federal excise tax on the purchase of a pleasure car, or 3 per cent on a commercial car. There is also a 5 per cent general excise tax on parts and accessories. If the car is a vehicle for hire, there is a $10 federal occupational tax on vehicles carrying seven passengers or less, and $20 if it carries more than seven.

In California there is a state registration fee of $3 on all cars, while commercial cars are taxed up to $50 additional, depending on weight and character of tires. There is in California a two-cent gasoline tax which estimates show amounts to an average of $10 a year for passenger cars and $20 for trucks. Every car owner also pays a personal property tax on assessed valuation.

There are two proposals as to gasoline tax being discussed in California—one for a one-cent increase, making a total of three cents, and another for a two-cent increase, making a total of four cents. Nor is this all. It is also proposed that the resignation fee be increased from $3 to $5 on all cars, and that the extra weight fees on commercial vehicles be increased by two-thirds. The proposed increases on passenger cars would amount to $7 in one case and $12 additional in another, depending on whether the gasoline tax is one or two cents.

With a commercial vehicle of, say, 4,000 pounds weight, the increase would be $18.66 if the tax is increased one cent per gallon, or $28.66 if the tax is increased two cents, and proportionately greater for heavier cars. These estimates are based on passenger cars using an average of 500 gallons annually and on commercial cars using 1,000 gallons. These are considered conservative figures.

Until recently the gasoline tax has never been passed upon by the people of any state. Always state legislatures have found it a relatively easy tax to impose and to collect. At the last election the people of Massachusetts had opportunity to register their opinion. A two-cent-per-gallon tax had been passed by the legislature. The motor car dealers of Massachusetts thought that this addition to an already large list of taxes was too much, and they brought about a referendum. The people spoke, to the extent of defeating the tax entirely by 270,000 votes.

There is another very important point. It is the gross unfairness of singling out any one commodity to carry a great load of taxation to produce revenues for the whole people. The varying proposals which have been made would place upon gasoline a tax of from 23 per cent to more than 30 per cent of the wholesale price of gasoline in San Francisco. Let any merchant ask himself how he would like to have such a burden thrown upon his own commodity. It would undoubtedly curtail consumption, for the higher the price of a commodity the lower the consumption, whether the commodity be shoes, clothing, food, or whatnot.

There are still more considerations of importance to the public, but the opposition of this company to the proposed measures is based on the elemental principle that it is wrong to tax a part of the people for the benefit of the whole, and grossly unjust to single out any commodity for a very heavy burden of taxation, and the company intends to place the facts before the motoring public, many of whom are its patrons.

Director

JOHN SMALLMAN, who will direct the presentation of "Messiah" at the Broadway High school tomorrow night.

John Smallman, who is to direct the rendition of Handel's "Messiah" at the Glendale High school auditorium tomorrow night is recognized as the greatest director of oratorio in the west. For the past four months he has been training the chorus of 200 voices of Glendale people and a highly artistic and finished performance of this great Christmas music is assured.

Four soloists will sing, accompanied by the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra and a capacity house is indicated by the advanced sale of the reserved seats.

Mr. Smallman is a baritone who is recognized as one of California's outstanding artists of musical expression and his voice has been heard many times in concerts in Glendale. At his studio in Los Angeles where he teaches voice, he has a constant waiting list of advanced pupils.

As director of the Los Angeles Oratorio and the famous First Congregational chorus choir, Mr. Smallman has made a name for himself as a musician of high attainment and Glendale is, indeed, fortunate that a director of his high calibre could be persuaded to devoted the time necessary to undertake the work of training the large chorus which will give a highly artistic performance.

The production is being given in the interest of better music for the city of Glendale by the oratorio section of the Glendale Music club. Every organization in the city is co-operating with the club to make Tuesday "Messiah Night."

Arrangement has been made with the Pacific Electric railway to provide busses and transportation so that the crowd may be easily taken care of.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA. Dec. 15.—Three hundred dollars have been added to the Tujunga Parent-Teacher association fund as a result of the cafeteria dinner and entertainment recently given at the schoolhouse. The money will be used to pay off the indebtedness on the auditorium chairs, which were pledged by the association to allow the school trustees to apply all the building money available to the urgent building needs.

A dinner of home-cooked food was served by prominent Tujunga residents, among them being H. B. Lynch, president of the Haines Canyon Water Co., who carved the meats; Harry Zachau, realtor, who acted as cashier, and several other volunteers who assisted the association. A bazaar was held in the kindergarten room, where toys and other gift articles were for sale and met with a ready response from the buyers. A cook book of favorite recipes of members of the Parent-Teacher association was sold. Mrs. B. B. Reynolds and Mrs. J. C. Greer had charge of an entertainment that followed in the auditorium. Among the numbers given were: sketch, "So This Is 1924"; readings by Mrs. Gore, instrumental music by the Lewis Sisters trio, minuet dance by Gene Correll and Tommy Greer, song by Ira Fowler, Henry Perry and George Sutton, and a chorus by the Girls' Glee club.

The charity ball given Friday night at the Garden of the Moon also met with a generous response from the residents. A large crowd attended and patronized the several attractions offered which included a fortune-telling booth, postoffice, fish pond and other novelty booths. Dancing was enjoyed to excellent music. Several arrests were made by special officers, who apprehended the patrons who made their appearances without troubling to don fancy costumes, and fines added materially to the fund, which will be devoted to Christmas cheer work by the Service club, representing the civic and social organizations of Tujunga.

GASOLINE TAX FOUGHT BY OIL MEN

Producers Claim State Fee Per Gallon Too High; Plan Campaign

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

FORT WORTH, Texas, Dec. 15.—As a result of the informal conferences held here during the meeting of the American Petroleum Institute the oil producers and distributors of the country have decided to make an aggressive fight against a further increase of state taxes on gasoline.

Some states already are assessing a tax of three cents a gallon and a few of these are proposing to raise it to four. The tax burden is being borne without any great complaint at the present moment because of the low price of gasoline, but the moment the cost of motor fuel begins to mount, as the oil men say it must within the next few years, there is certain to be a great outcry and the oil companies feel they will be heavily assailed. Therefore while they do not have to stand the tax which is always passed on to the consumer, they feel the industry owes it to the motoring public to do all it can to keep the tax within reason.

There is a tendency in virtually all the states to look to a gasoline levy as a means of raising additional revenue. Judge Amos L. Beaty, head of the Texas Company, frankly discussed the situation with his fellow oil executives.

Tax Is General

"Nearly all of the states now impose a tax on some amount on each gallon of gasoline sold," he said. "The tendency is pronounced and continuous. The states that are lower than others are inclined to increase their rates. Each seems afraid that it may not obtain its production of revenue compared with other states.

"What will be the situation when production declines and is less than potential consumption? Prices will advance. They will advance and these taxes will apply nevertheless and be passed on to the consumers. They will be just that much added to a price already considered high for a product that must be had. The taxes are not so objectionable when the price is low, and in most states they serve an important purpose.

"But when prices go higher, without the taxes, it may be found necessary to revise the rates downward. What the traffic can stand now it may not stand then. It is always difficult to reduce taxes and we may see the time when these taxes will oppress consumers on the one hand and cut into our sales on the other. That will be bad for the industry, bad for the public and bad for the state."

Hit Fake Promoters

The oil men of the country are going to try to protect the public in another respect—that of ridding it of the industry of the fake and flashy promoters. This is one case in which the cooperation of the government at Washington is desired.

There are no actual statistics available but the statement has been made here that the chance of a "wild catter" drilling in hit-or-miss fashion bringing in a producing well is just about one in several hundred. Even where geologists have surveyed field and reported conditions favorable chances are enhanced to only about one in fifty—certainly not more than one in twenty.

The best advice given to a public that is lured so often to invest in oil ventures which are little understood, is to buy stock only in a company which is in a continuous business and capable of drilling wells over a number of years. Such a company should get a definite return according to the law of averages but those who back a company or an individual prepared to drill only one or two wells, are indulging in a hazardous speculation for high stakes, like betting on a horse in a race of a hundred entries, and have no just cause for complaint if they fail.

Romance of Oil

Yet the romance of oil is far from dead. Only this week in the new field at Wortham, Texas, two gushers have been "shot" running thousands of barrels a day and worth millions of dollars. Here the field had been explored by the geologists, the students of rocks and sands of land conformations and "Domes" and success at certain points seemed almost guaranteed. Yet but a short distance away from the gushers another well had been drilled deeper and deeper with the prospect that at best it may be nothing more than a "pumper' from which a few barrels a day may be reluctantly extracted at high cost.

The geologist is not infallible; "he cannot tap the rocks and produce oil at will." If his task of "finding oil" was an exact science, oil would be less valuable than it is today. Many dry-hole tragedies have had as their requiem, "The geologist said there was oil."

But, speaking of domes in connection with oil, the name of a certain Tea Pot was not mentioned during the entire session of the oil men. That dome does not mean as much in the industry as the public has imagined. The position of the institute is that the Fall scandals did not touch the industry as a whole.

Honeymoon by airplane was enjoyed by a prominent couple of London recently.

CITY IS INVITED TO CLUB LECTURE

"The Christmas Star" To Be Topic Discussed By Miss Rouzee

Heralding the Christmas season will be the lecture on "The Christmas Star," to be given at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, North Central avenue and West Lexington drive, by Miss Winifred Rouzee. This will be a special holiday meeting of the Bible department of which Mrs. Charles H. Temple is curator.

"All Glendalians are invited to hear this Christmas message," said Mrs. Temple, who is anxious to have club members and friends fill the banquet hall.

Tea will be served with Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, curator of drama; Mrs. C. C. Cooper, chairman of community service; and Mrs. William F. MacPherson, chairman of conservation, as hostesses.

The Turkish bath was introduced in the United States in 1865.

ELKS INITIATION ON FOR TONIGHT

Alhambra District Deputy To Officiate As 50 Candidates Enter

Harold H. Quimby of Alhambra, district deputy grand exalted ruler, will pay his official visit to Glendale Elks lodge, at its regular weekly meeting tonight in the clubhouse on East Colorado street. Burbank lodge members will be guests. There will be initiation of fifty candidates from Burbank and Glendale.

Motorist Held Pending Probe of Auto Crash

Frank C. McClintock of 1261 Elm avenue, was arrested last night by officers of the Glendale police department, at the request of Deputy Sheriff Stoddard of Los Angeles county, following an automobile accident earlier in the night on River road, Los Angeles. Arresting officers went to McClintock's home, where they found him bleeding at the mouth, they said.

WANTED!

Capable business man with from $5000 to $10,000 cash or collateral to aid in financing the continued expansion of a rapidly growing manufacturing and merchandising business in Glendale.

The man desired is one preferably over thirty years of age with a successful experience in sales management or business administration who must be quite capable of assuming responsibility and with the qualities of leadership well developed.

The industry inserting this advertisement is one which commenced operations on June 1st this year with one man, who without capital, friends or credit, and in spite of quiet times and the off season for his line, has in that short time evolved an incorporated industry doing business on a cash basis that now employs a permanent, ever-increasing payroll of thirty-four residents of Glendale.

This unusual record of growth and expansion has been accomplished without ostentatious advertising or promotion schemes and hot air, but, to the contrary, is the result of new, bright and intelligent merchandising ideas, several good formulas, manufacturing A-1 good goods, plus real service, co-operative effort and everlasting hard work throughout the organization.

The business is amply financed for present needs and can give references to satisfy the most exacting, including leading business houses in Los Angeles, as well as banks.

Having made a very satisfactory start in covering the whole of Southern California, this concern is preparing to open a branch in San Francisco on Feb. 1st, for the purpose of handling Northern California, besides which the foundations are being laid for the merchandising throughout the entire U. S. A. of a specialty which is having an immense local sale in California.

This necessarily brief advertisement opens the way for some intelligent man with abundance of ambition and initiative, plus an appetite for work, to secure a hard job involving plenty of toil and responsibility and offering as a reward a substantial interest in the early stages of what is speedily becoming an organization of magnitude and wealthy independence.

Every Dollar Spent In Glendale Stores Makes Glendale One Dollar Richer

Without analyzing the matter one might think the larger the city, the better the stores and the more reasonable the prices. Up to a certain point this is true. The village general store cannot carry the merchandise or offer the shopping facilities of the city department store. Where the population is too small to support them, good stores cannot exist.

Glendale, today, has reached the point where her population can and does support business, professions and trades of all kinds as good as the best.

Glendale has come into her own as a big city and a shopping center in such a short time that her people might be excused if they had not yet awakened to the fact that they need not go out of Glendale to do their trading. We should overlook the matter, also, if some of our newer residents take it for granted that they can buy to a better advantage in a larger city.

Glendale people, generally speaking, have risen to the occasion and have given their support whole-heartedly to the local stores, professions and trades, helping to create a business center that is the envy of larger cities.

The advertisers listed on this page have banded together to promote Community Loyalty. They ask only a chance to prove to the few who trade out of town that they can do their buying in Glendale as advantageously and with far less time and friction than in any near-by city.

The holiday season should be a good time to try out Glendale business. The cars are overcrowded. Traffic conditions are abominable and the big city streets and stores are jammed. Save money, time, strength and shoe leather and convince yourself that you can do as well in Glendale stores as anywhere.

You will not only better yourself by acquiring the habit of trading in Glendale, but you will be helping to build a Greater Glendale, for every dollar spent here makes the city that much richer.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Dec. 15.—The Bible section of the Women's Twentieth Century club will meet Thursday, December 18, The time is 10 o'clock in the morning. The place is the clubhouse.

Mrs. Abigail O. Shearift, formerly of Davenport, Iowa, now residing in Pasadena, conducts the class. Mrs. Shearift was superintendent of primary schools in Davenport, conducted the Bible study for the Y. W. C. A. of that city and has given Bible lectures before clubs and societies.

Rev. William Middlemas, pastor of the Presbyterian church, addressed the last meeting of the Women's club, speaking on "Spiritual Preparation for Christmas." There will be no meeting of the club on Thursday, December 25.

J. Angelillo, builder, has erected a mammoth Christmas tree on Oak Grove avenue, which he has decorated and will maintain from this time until Christmas. The tree is at the location of the large sycamore tree on Oak Grove avenue and many are making trips at night to see it with its myriad lights gleaming.

The Travel club of the Women's Twentieth Century club will not meet until the first Tuesday afternoon in January, when the members will gather at the club house from 2 until 4 o'clock and at which time they will begin the study of India. Everyone is welcome.

Miss Ida B. Dumke is entertaining her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. S. Dumke of Laws, California, and her brother, Mr. H. S. Dumke is now on his way to visit his sister for a short stay.

The little daughters of Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes of Alverne avenue will appear with their mother at Glenwood Mission Inn during Christmas week. Little Mary Elizabeth and Bettie Hughes are well known to all radio listeners in who have heard them in their mother's original stories every week for the past year over KFSG or KHJ. They are now broadcasting from KNX.

Snow in the Antarctic during the winter is composed of such small crystals that it is almost like dust.

Only one of the "Seven Wonders of the World" survives, that being the Pyramid of Cheops at Ghizeh.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Dec. 15.—The schools of this city will be vacant for nearly three weeks, closing December 17 and not reopening until January 5. Three extra days are given, as in other cities of Los Angeles county, in order that Burbank teachers may attend the institute on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

The annual election in the local Masonic lodge, just held, places Walter Lawrence in the highest position, that of worshipful master. Others are: Earl Dufur, senior warden; Jack Lockwood, junior warden; L. D. Davidson, secretary, and R. O. Church, treasurer. The trustees are: Chas. B. Fischer, J. D. Radcliff and A. Sence. The appointive positions have not yet been filled nor is the date of installation yet known.

The first section of the Burbank sewer is now practically complete and is being tested by C. J. Dooiittle, inspector. This section includes all the main gravity lines from Third street on the north to Flower and Varney streets on the south. All that now remains for the completion of the first section is construction of the pressure system, installation of electrical pumps and turning on of the electricity.

Alex and Hans Ihle of Chicago arrived here recently and are visiting at the home of their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Huber of 440 San Jose avenue. They will spend the winter here. They drove through by automobile in ten days without trouble, making the journey over the Santa Fe trail. Very few storms were encountered, though they found snow in the Colorado mountains.

Judges have been named to pass on the costumes to be worn at the Shriners' mask ball New Year's Eve, at Benmar Hills. They are Mrs. Walter Fisher, Mrs. May Clarke and J. C. Crawford.

Trotzky Visits Resort To Rid Grippe Attack

MOSCOW, Dec. 15.—Leon Trotzky, Soviet commissar for war, has departed for the south, the public health commissar announced today. Trotzky has been suffering from an aggravated case of la grippe and seeks rest, the health commissar said.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Dec. 15.—Pupils of the La Crescenta school will enjoy a turkey dinner tomorrow at the school cafeteria. Potatoes, cranberry sauce, gravy and a generous serving of the kingly fowl will be given each child. Ice cream, pie and other edibles will be extra. To facilitate matters, several of the mothers have volunteered to help in the serving of the meal which is being given instead of the regular Christmas tree and candy, as the school has such an increased enrollment as to make it impossible to seat all parents and children of the district in the auditorium.

The P.-T. A. donated $40 to purchase the turkeys for the dinner while parents of the valley are making and donating the pies.

Mrs. E. L. Wemple of Honolulu avenue, Verdugo City, is entertaining as her house guest her mother, Mrs. E. Flinn, of San Francisco. Mrs. Flinn who has visited here before, has just returned from an extensive tour of the eastern states.

COMMON COLDS (ACUTE CORYZA)

Winter comes, with colds not far behind. Does winter weather have anything to do with colds? Yes, somewhat. But aren't colds supposed to be infectious? Yes. more than somewhat. Colds are infectious and winter weather obviously has something to do with them, else there would not be so many more in winter than at other times.

First, about colds being infectious. There is no doubt that there is a form of acute cold that is highly infectious, almost as infectious as measles. You have had them run through your families and your neighborhoods. We'll talk on these later.

There is not much doubt that the germs that can cause a cold are normal settlers on the mucous membrane of the nose and throat all of the time. The police forces of the mucous membrane—the protective mucous and the plentiful supply of blood in the tissues—are able to keep these germs in good nature by not allowing them to outgrow their bounds; (in other words, they quietly kill 'em off); but when these police forces are weakened in any way the germs raise a riot. Among the things that can weaken these police forces is chilling from cold or wet. The fact that chilling can lower resistance has been demonstrated by the classical hen experiment of Pasteur.

First let me explain that there are certain diseases to which domestic fowls are immune, for instance, anthrax, a deadly disease to sheep. Pasteur had some hens stand in cold water until their temperature had been lowered several degrees. He then inoculated them with a virulent culture of anthrax germs and they pretty promptly died. Under ordinary conditions, hens are absolutely indifferent to anthrax, but with their normal temperature lowered, and with that the vitality, the germs were able to multiply sufficiently to cause death.

I once took charge of a baby ward in California and the babies were all on a new sleeping porch. The outdoor sleeping experiment was about to be abandoned because all of the babies had colds constantly. Instead of abandoning the outdoor sleeping, I had warm, flannel sleeping bags, with hoods, made for the babies, and gave instructions to have the blankets pinned loosely down with horse blanket pins, so that while movement was allowed, the babies could not squirm out from under cover. We were troubled with colds no longer.

From these illustrations you can understand why colds are more prevalent in the winter weather, but you can also see that it applies only to those who are exposed to the cold, insufficiently clothed, causing the temperature to be lowered and thus the resistance. With proper protection, however, fresh cold air, instead of predisposing to colds, acts just the reverse, and those who live and sleep out of doors are much less apt to have colds.

There are several other reasons why colds are more prevalent in cold weather. Houses are very apt not to be sufficiently ventilated, and the stagnant vitiated air constantly breathed in lowers the resistance of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat, and of course, reacts on the general health. Modern methods of heating dries the air, which in turn dries the mucous membrane and irritates it. An open pan of water on the radiator helps to overcome this dryness.

Now, the lesson you should get from this paper is that proper ventilation, not too dry air, and sufficient covering to prevent prolonged chilling, are important factors in preventing winter colds.

Tomorrow we will talk about other factors in the production of colds. I have not finished my series on the ears yet, and the reason I am running this series on colds first is the same reason why I ran the scarlet fever papers first—that is, colds frequently result in ear troubles.

Save this paper to go with tomorrow's.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e., if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Bran Bread (Requested): Mix together these dry ingredients: Two cups of bran, two cups of graham flour and two cups of white flour, one-half cup of granulated sugar, one teaspoon of baking powder, one teaspoon of salt, and one cup of either raisins or nuts; stir these ingredients till they are perfectly blended. Now mix together the following liquid ingredients: Two cups of sweet milk, one beaten egg, one-half cup of molasses and two teaspoons of soda dissolved in one-fourth cup of hot water. Pour the liquid mixture into the dry, mix well, then turn the dough into two greased bread pans and bake in a slow oven for one hour.

Escalloped Corn (Requested by H. J.): Melt four tablespoons of butter in a saucepan and rub into it one-half cup of flour which has been mixed with one and one-half teaspoons of salt and one scant teaspoon of dry mustard powder. Now add one and one-half cups of scalded hot sweet milk gradually, stirring while you add it. Bring to the boiling point, then also add one large cup of canned corn (or fresh corn may be used in season) and one well beaten egg. Pour all into a buttered baking dish and cover the top with one heaping cupful of buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a hot oven till the crumbs are brown—about fifteen minutes—and serve at once.

Bacon-Cheese Delights: These are excellent for a Sunday night supper or for a little guest luncheon. They are made by combining equal amounts of uncooked bacon and mild American cheese. Put the bacon and the cheese through your food chopper, then mix them together and season to suit individual liking with salt and pepper. Spread this mixture over crustless slices of white bread and slip the bread into a moderate oven to bake for about twenty minutes, or until the mixture upon it is blended by the heat and slightly crusted over. Serve hot.

"Cabbage Salad: Make the dressing as follows: Mix together three beaten eggs, one teaspoon of dry mustard (less if not liked too strong), a generous pinch of pepper, two teaspoons of salt and three tablespoons of melted butter. Place this over the fire and add two tablespoons of sugar, then also one teacup of vinegar. Cook till thick as custard, then cool. When cold add one-half cup of double cream stiffly whipped, and stir in enough chopped raw cabbage to make a fairly stiff mixture—that is, enough to make it pile up lightly. Contributed."

She also visited with friends while at Butte and was entertained at several social affairs. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Ellsworth, returned home with her to spend the winter here.

Plan for Party

Plans for an old-fashioned Christmas party to be held on Tuesday night, December 23, were made at the meeting of Omar Shrine, White Shrine of Jerusalem held at the Masonic temple, 232 South Brand boulevard, Saturday night. A large Christmas tree will be placed in the hall and will be gaily decorated with pine cones, tinsel and ornaments. Raymond Luring will bring the tree an dpine cones from his mountain home, "Luring Pine" at Big Bear Lake. Smaller Christmas trees will be decorated and placed in the windows. Stockings are being made and sewed with bright-colored yarn, for candy and nuts. Arrangements are being made to entertain 300 people at the party as members of any Shrine and their families are invited to attend. Toys for the tree have been donated by E. W. Hubbard of The Hub Pharmacy. Entertainment for the evening will be a Christmas play. Mrs. Maude Smith is chairman of arrangements. Refreshments will be served. Each member of the Shrine will bring a pound of staple groceries, toys and any article of clothing to be given to the lendale Welfare Council. In co-operation with Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, who has charge of arrangements for Christmas cheer for soldiers at Sawtelle, Omar Shrine voted to give a sum of money for the work. Mrs. Allude, past worthy high priestess of White Shrine of Jerusalem at Newton, Iowa, was a guest at the meeting. Initiation of a class of candidates took place with Mrs. Warren Roberts, worthy high priestess, presiding.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

WELL FITTING GLOVES

There are various little tricks of making the hands look more shapely, or smaller, that few women seem to know. For instance, most people seem to think that a tight glove will reduce the size, or the apparent size, of the hand as a tight corset will reduce the waistline. But there is a great deal of soft and easily compressible fat around the waist, very little on the hand. Besides any resistance of the hands or the feet affects the circulation so that a red nose and still worse troubles are bound to follow.

The way to make the hands look smaller when gloved is to buy gloves a quarter size too large, rather than a quarter size too small. That sounds odd, but try it and you'll see it's true. For one thing, the shape of the glove shows; and there is obviously plenty of room within it for the hand, which by itself would make the hand seem smaller. If the glove is tight, strange bulges of flesh protrude pulling the leather out of shape, giving the impression that the hand is so large it is ready to burst through its restriction.

Another trick is this—wear heavy leather gloves. Thin kid clings so tightly to the skin that only the woman with small and perfectly shaped hands can wear it. Buy thick, loose suede, or chamois, or cape gloves for daytime, and thick, white washable suede or cape for dressy wear, and as heavy a quality white kid for long evening gloves as you can find. Always wear loose wrist gloves, never short button ones, if your hands are big.

And remember that this season, heavy leather gloves are smarter than kid and that the latest fashion in Paris and London, which is coming in over here now, is to wear gloves so loose they wrinkle a bit on the hand. Snugly fitting gloves have quite gone out, which is to the advantage of the large fisted woman.

Mrs. Samuel F.—The only virtue in brushing the hair is to keep it clean and equalize the secretions over its full length. If you can keep your hair well groomed without the aid of the brush there is no reason to use one. Shampoo about every two weeks.

system, especially that of a sluggish liver. Eat less meat and rich pastries, and balance your diet by taking enough fruit and green vegetables. Spinach and lettuce may be had throughout the winter, and if you include either of these with your dinner you will be able to take a starchy vegetable like potatoes.

The Wrath To Come

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM, Copyright 1924

CHAPTER LXV

"This is an amazing place, with an amazing atmosphere," he declared. "Even when one entertains like an ambassador—as no ambassador of today could—always in the background there is that little god calling. We leave our seats at the opera to tempt chance. We forget sometimes, watching the spinning of that wheel, that the most beautiful woman of our desire is waiting for us. How is it with you, Mr. Blunn? They tell me that you are one of the richest men in the world, but I have seen you standing watching that table as though nothing but an earthquake could move you until the little ball had found its place."

"I feel it," Blunn acknowledged. "I have even gone as far, following out the trend of your thoughts, as to try to appreciate the psychological side of it. It isn't always the money that counts. Your Majesty has, if I might be permitted to say so, exaggerated when he speaks of wealth, but still it is not the money at all which one thinks of. There is a personal sense of triumph when your number turns up. You feel that you have backed yourself against a mighty organization and won. You are supremely indifferent to the fact that chance has aided you. You have an absolute conviction that it is your own cleverness. That is the secret of the thrill when your number turns up and the croupiers fill your pockets."

Mademoiselle Lebrun sang, and afterwards there was a little movement of departure.

"Will you please escort me up to the Club?" Gertrude whispered to her neighbor.

Grant bowed.

"With pleasure," he assented.

There were other influences at work, however. Blunn turned to her good-humoredly, with the air of one making a pleasing announcement. The Prince was laughing a little in the background.

"His Majesty asks for the pleasure of conducting you to the Rooms, Princess."

"If you will do me that honor," the King murmured, bowing.

"I shall bring back luck," Gertrude warned him, her voice trembling a little.

"You will give me, even in that event, what counts, perhaps, for more—very charming company," was the gallant rejoinder.

Susan came up to Grant, smiling, about half an hour later. She had left Bobby Lancaster and his sister seated on a divan.

"Aren't you flattered, Grant?" she exclaimed. "You've been labelled dangerous. Kings have been summoned to the help of the terrified husband. Look, they've made the poor woman sit at a table and play roulette, which she hates, with His Majesty on one side, her husband behind her chair, and Blunn, like a patron saint, hovering around."

Grant looked at the little phalanx and nodded.

"Well," he admitted, "I'm half It does seem to be a plot. Where's It does seem to be a plat. Where's your father?"

"Gone home," she answered. "He was very angry with Mr. Blunn."

"All the same, it was clever," Grant observed. "I'll bet he's got a dozen copies of those few remarks of his ready for print and distribution in the States. The audacity of it all is amazing. There were you and I and Gertrude, to say nothing of the whole secret, absolutely within a few yards of him—knew how he fought to get that gloomy Scandinavian back to Nice in time to vote. He just laughs at us and ignores it all. We're only one or two. It is the millions he wants. It's magnificent!"

"Since I'm afraid it's quite hopeless for you to get anywhere near the enchanting Princess, would you like to talk to me for a few minutes?" she invited.

"We'll find that greedy corner in the Bar," he assented, turning away with her, "where you eat up all the chocolate eclairs."

She sighed.

"I wish I weren't so fond of food. People won't believe that I have sentiment when they watch my appetite. However," she went on cheerfully, "I sha'n't want anything more to eat today, nor tomorrow, as a matter of fact."

"It was a great dinner," he acknowledged. "We'll have an orangeade and go through the courses. They were something to dream of."

"If you're going to talk about food," she began peevishly—

"Not necessarily food," he interrupted, as they selected their easy chairs. "There were the wines—that Chateau Yquem, for instance. Terrible to drink it after champagne, but it was a dream."

"How long are you going to stay in the States?" she asked.

"Until you're grown up," he replied. "Then I'm coming back to see what sort of a woman you have become."

"You will probably find me married to Bobby Lancaster," she warned him. "He proposed to me tonight in an entirely different way and I was really touched. I don't see why one should wait forever for a man who never asks one, and who talks about going to the other end of the world as though he was slipping into Corret's to have his hair cut."

"Meaning me?"

"Meaning you."

For a single moment Grant felt that he had exchanged his thirty-one years for her nineteen. She was smiling at him with all the gentle savoir faire of a woman of the world. He himself was embarrassed.

"Aren't you by way of being an extremist?" he enquired. "Even if one might hesitate to ask you to leap into sedate middle age, it seems rather a pity for you to marry into the nursery."

"Bobby is twenty-four," she declared indignantly.

"You amaze me," he confessed. "But consider those twenty-four years. We will leave out the perambulator stages. Fifteen to nineteen at Eton—cricket and rackets. Twenty to twenty-four, a guardsman — rather more cricket, rather more rackets. It is a full and busy life, child, but it makes for youth."

She smiled serenely.

"You don't understand," she remonstrated. "Cricket is almost our religion. I asked the Captain of the Australians to marry me when I was fourteen."

"He spared you?"

She nodded.

"He gave me his daughter's photograph. She was much older than I was, very thin and she squinted. It wasn't really a romance—it was cricket."

"Is Bobby any good?" he asked.

She sighed.

"That's rather the pity of it," she admitted. "He very seldom makes any runs and he has ninety-five different excuses, or rather explanations, for the way in which he got out."

"I don't think I'm missing much in cricket," Grant reflected. "I played halfback for Harvard. Football isn't a bad game, you know."

She looked at him sympathetically.

"That must have been back in the dim past," she observed. "Long before the sedate middle-aged feeling came upon you."

THE GATEWAY

Pola Negri in "Forbidden Paradise," adapted by Agnes Christine Johnson from the stage play, "The Zarina," opens today at the Gateway theatre, showing today and tomorrow.

Ernst Lubitsch, German director who megaphoned Pola through the scenes of "Passion," directed her in "Forbidden Pasadise. In support of the Polish star are Rod La Rocque, Adolphe Menjou and Pauline Starke.

The story fits the emotional Pola like a glove giving her opportunity to show flashes of the passionate spirit that won her popularity when she first appeared on the screen of this country in the German made picture, "Passion."

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"Only 38" will open Wednesday for another week at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre, announces Mrs. Florence Dobinson. This play is one of the most pleasing the Dobinson Players have yet put on and is proving very popular.

Included in the cast are Gertrude Kellar, Olaf Hytten, Mary Isabelle Alpaugh, William H. Stephens, Thyra Ruhland, Gertrude Rothe, Richard Ehlers and George C. Pearce. Among some of the Glendalians appearing in the college scene are Helen Anderson, Winifred Anderson, Edwards Rothe, Harry Glazier, Maurice Widdows and Harold Teffry.

"Only 38" is from the pen of A. E. Thomas, one of the most popular dramatists in America, and deals with the lighter aspects of college life. It is noted for its comedy situations and clever characterizations.

THE GLENDALE

"Chalk Marks" continues at the Glendale Theatre. Marguerite Snow is the featured player.

THE T. D. & L.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND SUSIE'S STOCKINGS

Once upon a time as Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods, he saw Susie Littletail, the rabbit girl sitting on a stump. She was all by herself.

"My! I wonder why Susie is sitting there alone?" thought Uncle Wiggily. "Can it be that she has been disorderly in school and the Lady Mouse Teacher has sent Susie out here to be punished? I hope not, but I'll ask her."

As Uncle Wiggily hopped nearer to the little rabbit girl he saw that she had in her paws a pair of stockings with holes in—quite large holes they were, too and Susie's toes must have stuck out when she wore the stockings.

"What is the matter, Susie?" asked the bunny gentleman, "and why are you out here in the woods with holes in your stockings?"

"I came out here to mend my stockings for Christmas," answered Susie, trying to make her pink nose twinkle as Uncle Wiggily did his, only her nose was smaller. "You know it will soon be Christmas," went on Susie. "I am going to hang up my stockings to have Santa Claus fill them with presents. But if my stockings have holes in, all the presents will fall out."

"That is very likely to happen," agreed the bunny gentleman.

"But I don't know how to mend these stockings very well," said Susie. "Mother told me to darn them, so I brought them here to the woods."

"Why did you do that, Susie?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I thought perhaps I might see the Darning Needle bug lady and she would mend my stockings for me," answered the rabbit girl.

"Well, the Darning Needle lady, or Dragon Fly, might mend your stockings for you, if she were here," said Mr. Longears. "But this is winter and the Darning Needles have gone down South, where it is warm. However, perhaps I can mend your stockings for you, Susie."

"Oh, can you? How?" cried Susie.

"I'll show you," spoke Uncle Wiggily. He found a pine tree with some sticky gum trickling from a hole in the bark. The bunny gentleman took some of this sticky gum, and then he gnawed a bit of bark from the white birch tree. Uncle Wiggily gummed pieces of bark over the holes in Susie's stockings.

"There!" he cried. "You can't see the holes any more. It isn't as neatly done as if they were darned, but perhaps it will do."

"Will my stockings hold Christmas presents now?" asked Susie. "I'm going to try. I'll fill them with stones and see if any fall out of the places where the holes were. If no stones drop out then I'll be sure no presents will fall out."

So Susie filled both stockings with stones, and the patches which Uncle Wiggily had gummed on held tightly. Susie swung her stockings around her head and cried: "Hurray!"

"Hurray! Yes, that's what I say!" growled the Woozie Wolf suddenly popping out of the bushes. "Hurray, for I'm going to nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears today!"

"Oh, no you aren't!" sweetly said Susie. "No you aren't, you bad old Wolfie, you!" With that she once more swung her stockings filled with stones, and brought them down "Sock!" on the Wolf's nose.

"Kazinkatrink!" howled the Wolf, holding his paws on his nose. "Oh, what happened?"

"My stockings happened to hit you—my Christmas stockings that Uncle Wiggily mended for me so they will hold rocks. They happened to hit you!" laughed Susie. Then the Wolf ran away, the little rabbit girl emptied the stones from her stockings and she and Mr. Longears went home. And if the milk bottle will give the gas stove a drink of tea when it dances on one leg, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the lost pig.

FRIENDS, FOES IN WILSON TRIBUTE

Private Ceremony Attended By President, Friends Recalls War Head

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—In the same solemn chamber where his spoken word so often affected the destiny of the nation and the history of the world, the friends and foes of Woodrow Wilson gathered today in an official ceremony and paid tribute to his greatness.

It was a private ceremony from which the general public was excluded. But, seated in front of the dais, from which in life he uttered the words that sent the nation into the World war, were the president of the United States, an ex-president, justices of the supreme court, senators, representatives, diplomats, the great and near-great of the nation today, old friends and fellow counsellors—and, lastly, the little group of relatives who surrounded him in the last day of his tragic exile in S street. They heard from Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, a scholarly presentation of Woodrow Wilson, the student, the man, the teacher, the executive and the crusader.

Rich Cabaret Patrons Victim of Two Bandits

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Two automobile bandits held up F. L. Greene, wealthy hotel owner, and Mrs. Green while they were on their way home from a suburban cafe here early today and robbed them of $10,000 worth of diamonds.

ONE MAN KILLED IN POWDER BLAST

Glaze Mill Explosion Near Seattle Wrecks Plant; Probe Started

SEATTLE, Dec. 15.—One man was killed and damage to the extent of $100,000 was done to buildings at the Dupont Powder company's plant two miles west of Camp Lewis in an explosion which rattled windows in West Seattle shortly after 8 o'clock this morning.

The explosion occurred in the glaze mill of the black powder mill, a unit of the major plant where from 120 to 125 men are employed.

No explanation of the immediate cause of the explosion was obtainable at the plant. It is customary for workmen to leave the mill when the glazing process starts and with the possible exception of one or two men, no one appears to know what touched off the blast.

John Ellgood, the dead man, may have been the only witness to the accident. The company is making an investigation but has not been able to obtain an explanation.

Chinese Convicts Run Amuck In Jail Outbreak

HONG KONG, Dec. 15.—A Portuguese guard and four Chinese convicts were dead today after an outbreak of convicts employed on a small island near Marcoa. The Chinese broke loose, overpowered their guards, seized arms and ran amuck. They surrendered on arrival of a Portuguese gunboat.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 15.—Maurice Tourneur won a studio contest here among directors and scenario writers for producing the longest word in the world of record from "Ekklesiazousal" of Aristophanes. Here it is:

"Lepadotemachoselachogaleokraniloiphanodrimupotrimmatokiehlepikossuphophattoperistorrtlsktrubnoptegkephlokigklopelero l a gossissiobaphetraganopterugon." Pronounce it if you can! Other jawbreakers falling short were:

"H o n orificabilitudinitatibus," from "Love's Labor Lost."

"A m o r onthologosphors," from Bulwer's "Pilgrims of the Rhine."

"Antipericatametananarabougedamphic," from Urquhart's translation of Rabelais, and—

"D r i m taidhvriskhilichattan,' a town on the Isle of Mull."

Japan Not to Protest California's Crop Law

TOKIO, Dec. 15.—Stories published in the Japanese press that Japan intends to protest to Washington against the California crop law decision were denied here today by the foreign office, which pointed out that question is one which does not come within the scope of diplomatic jurisdiction.

GEORGE LYONS IS NAMED PRESIDENT

Replaces George Karr Head Of Community Service; Councilmen Speak

George Lyons, Glendale business man and director of the Chamber of Commerce, was unanimously elected president of Glendale Community Service at the first board meeting of the new year today at noon. The meeting was held at the Harriett Mae Tea room.

Mr. Lyons replaces George B. Karr, who was named new president of Community Service at the annual meeting several weeks ago. Mr. Karr declined to accept the presidency, due to the press of other business.

Alexander Stewart, executive director of the Civic Music and Art association and head of the Eisteddfod movement in Southern California, spoke at the meeting, declaring Glendale community service was serving to guard against development of over emphasis among the numerous organizations in the city by affording a means of intercommunication between the many clubs. He said this same object was being carried out by the Eisteddfod by getting all Southern California communities together. He praised the large place given to musical activities in Glendale.

A. L. Baird presided until the election of Mr. Lyons. C. C. Cooper, retiring treasurer, read the financial report for 1924 which showed the organization to be in a healthy condition.

Upon motion by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, secretary, the community service went on record advocating that the Glendale Community Chest drive be continued until the whole quota set at the outset be attained. It was pointed out by Mrs. Hutchinson that community service for one thing, could not readily cut the budget below the estimate already given. A check for a portion of Community Service budget was received today. Richardson D. White declared that a supplementary drive to complete the chest quota was under consideration.

Councilmen Speak

An announcement was made of the community Christmas program to take place at the Harvard High school on Christmas eve when a pantomime, featuring Glendale people and a huge chorus of voices will be held.

Mayor Spencer Robinson and Councilmen Davis, Kimlin and Gilhuly spoke, pledging support of the city to Community Service and praising the work being done. Councilman Davis declared he believed more support through taxation should be given the movement.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Bullish factors were in the ascendancy in the stock market today and stock prices in every division of the speculative list moved upward at a brisk pace. The railroad stocks were the first to point the way to the higher levels and a number of stocks in this group featured in sensational advances in prices. Not in ten years has Atchison sold at today's record price of 120⅛; Central of New Jersey at 270. Baltimore and Ohio, above 80, recorded the highest price since 1917. Great Northern, New Haven and a score of well known rails enjoyed an active market and generally at advances from Saturday's closing levels.

Good buying of the copper, equipment, sugar and even the oil stocks revealed the comparatively small floating supply of many stocks in these groups and prices moved forward at a brisk pace.

Pools in Worthington pump, Replogle Steel and other industrial and specialty stocks displayed them to the best advantage and price gains in some of these stocks exceeded 3 points.

Bulls in the oil stocks pointed to the enormous increase in the current consumption of oil products and the prevailing belief that the next move in prices would be upward.

General Electric was the outstanding leader in the high priced industrial group. In unusually active trade, the stock pushed up to 284½, a gain of 8½ points and a new high since 1902; cast Iron Pipe gained nearly 8 points and sold up to 144.

Buying of this stock today was reported to be for the account of W. C. Durant and other bullish traders who sold a string of their stocks last week.

Stock sales 1,734,700 shares; bonds $12,613,000.

Death Reveals Woman Lived as Man 7 Years

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Word from Miss Harriet E. Walker, an employe of Swift & Co., Chicago packers, was awaited by Los Angeles authorities today in their investigation of the strange case of "Paul J. Beach," mystery woman, who posed as a man for seven years. Friends of the dead woman told the authorities that Miss Walker was a relative or friend of "Beach."

Florence Dillon, the girl who "Beach" married eight years ago in Sacramento, Cal., was an assistant cashier in the stock yards bank of Swift & Co., in Chicago, before she met "Beach" and married "him," living with "him" as husband for seven years, it was said.

Radio Interests Seek Control In Philippines

MANILA, Dec. 15.—The naval radio agreement by which all wireless communication between the Philippines and the United States is controlled by the United States navy will come to an end July, 1925, unless it is renewed, it was learned here today. Officials of the Radio Corporation of America, who are seeking to build a plant here to complete their far eastern system, are said to be trying to block renewal of the naval agreement so that radio communication from the islands may be in the hands of commercial companies. Congress will decide the issue involved, it is believed.

Eight Hurt When Auto And Street Car Crash

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Eight persons were injured, two probably fatally, here today when an electric train struck an automobile. Six of the victims were Pacific fleet sailors. Harry Lynch of the U. S. S. West Virginia and Fred Darth, driver of the car, were not expected to recover.

R. E. De Rosier of the U. S. S. Tennessee, Earl Brewster and H. Blankenship of the U. S. S. California, John H. Bowers of the U. S. S. Oklahoma, John Sebaten of the U. S. S. West Virginia, and Charles McArthur were less seriously hurt.

AIR FLIGHT IS DEAF MUTE'S SAVIOUR

English Girl Speaks And Hears After Dive In Plane Tail Spin

By O. L. SCOTT
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Is the airplane, agency of so many other benefactions, now to offer hearing to the deaf and restore speech to the mute?

An interview with Gwendolyn Caswell, 20-year-old English girl who was a deaf mute last week but has partial hearing and speech today, is almost convincing that the airplane offers the relief sought for others similarly afflicted.

"Great dives in airplanes should help others as they are helping me," the girl says, halting, carefully, barely audible in the first real efforts of her life to speak.

Deaf since she was nine months old, like other deaf persons she had failed to learn to talk because unable to hear what she was saying.

"But now, in seven more rides, I am sure that all of my hearing will be restored," Miss Caswell explained slowly. "Now I can hear music, but not words. I can hear singing and orchestra playing. I heard the automobile for the first time. It was wonderful and when all hearing returns, I shall be completely happy.

Take Great Dive

"It was all a pleasant experience. We just went up in the airplane nearly a mile. Then we took a great dive. They called it a tail-spin. There was a bang in my ears as we dropped. After that, I heard the motor and on the ground was able to hear sound for the first time.

"Probably others could do the same thing, I hope they can. It is so pleasant to be able to hear."

All this, barely understandable, but said by one who only a day or so ago was unable to speak a word, furnished proof of the airplane's accomplishments. Doctors, the girl said, had been unable to help her. Time after time physicians had reported the ailment incurable.

But through the airplane drop, the changing air pressure had brought a shock to the diaphragm of the ear, which restored its sensitiveness to a degree. That is the explanation the doctors give.

Realty Board to Hear Torrens Titles Expert

C. E. Snow, Jr., expert on Torrens titles, will speak at the regular meeting of the Glendale Realty board, to be held at the Egyptian Village cafe, Wednesday at noon. There also will be further discussion of the multiple listing system at the meeting.

E. L. Schuyler, S. Max Woods and Mrs. Ethel Gaskill are members of the reception committee. "Registration cards for the realtors' educational class will pe provided and all members wishing to join the class may do so at the meeting. Registrations will close Wednesday night, according to D. C. Cassellman, chairman of the educational committee.

Jackie Coogan Now Has Tiny Baby Brother

Jackie Coogan is wearing a broad grin on his "million dollar" face today, for his fondest dream has come true. He has a baby brother, born at the Glendale hospital, 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, December 13.

"Of course. I really wanted a sister," he confessed, when he heard the news. "That would have been my dearest dream of all. But deep down in my heart I am glad it's a boy. It's sure wonderful to have a brother."

Jackie's rival for parental affection has lots of dark hair and looks like Mrs. Lillian Coogan, his mother. The baby has not yet been named. Dr. H. G. Westphal was the physician in charge. Mrs. Coogan came to the hospital Friday. Both mother and son are well.

The Coogan suite at the Glendale hospital is literally heaped with costly flowers, bearing the cards of many of the most celebrated stars, directors and producers in the Hollywood film colony.

HOYER WILL LEAD LETTER CARRIERS

Victor H. Elected to Head Glendale Branch of National Body

Victor H. Hoyer was elected president of Glendale branch 1983, National Association of Letter Carriers, at the annual meeting, held Saturday night. Other officers who were elected for the coming year were A. S. Wood, vice-president; Frank C. Davis, recording secretary; Harold Knapp, financial secretary; Willard H. Budd, treasurer; George Brady, clerk, N. S. B. A.; Cal S. Nicholson, trustee, and Al C. Holcomb, sergeant-at-arms. Delegates to the Service Relations council from Glendale branch will be A. S. Wood, O. W. Wright and Dave Sullivan.

William Newman, past state president of the California Letter Carriers' association; William Piggot and John Tischler spoke. Plans for the annual Christmas party of the carriers, to be staged under the direction of Ambrose S. Wood and the women's auxiliary, were discussed. Santa Claus distributed gifts to children. Games and an old-fashioned spelling match, won by F. C. Davis, were features. The program closed with a professional vaudeville act furnished thorugh the courtesy of the Glendale theatre. Refreshments were served.

Men's Brotherhood to Be Hosts To Women

Women of the Central avenue Methodist Episcopal church will be honored guests of the Men's Brotherhood of the church at a dinner tomorrow night, in the social hall of the church. Harry Meyers, chairman of the social committee, has charge of arrangements. Decorations will be suggestive of the Christmas season and singing of Christmas songs will be included. Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor of the First Methodist church, will be speaker. Donald Kline, member of the Trinity Methodist church, Los Angeles, and a brother of Rev. Leo C. Kline, pastor of the Central avenue Methodist church, and Dr. Joseph Marple will sing. The dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

EXTEND SCOPE OF TRADE CAMPAIGN

C. C. Directors Ask Builders, Contractors to Employ Glendale Men

In accordance with a suggestion made through the columns of The Glendale Evening News by L. L. Byers, 810 South Glendale avenue, and with action taken by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at its last meeting, the following resolution, extending the scope of the "Try Glendale First" campaign, was given out from the executive offices of the chamber today:

"Moved by Director Fox and seconded by Director Karr, that the 'Trade at Home' resolution be amended by inserting the following paragraphs:

"We further ask all builders, contractors and other employers to co-operate in the letting of contracts to Glendale contractors and the emploment of Glendale employes (both men and women) insofar as it is possible so to do;

"We recognize that Glendale employes and the wages they receive are the backbone of prosperity and the greatest means by which business houses and industry may flourish;

"We recognize that the expenditures of these working men and women depend entirely upon the wages which they receive for labor, and that the employment of Glendale labor on any and all occasions is not only right in principle, but necessary for the prosperity and advancement of Glendale;

"Further, that the same principle applies to all lines of business and professional activity in all walks of life and we most sincerely urge that Glendale people in every manner whatsoever give their support to other Glendale people and Glendale institutions."

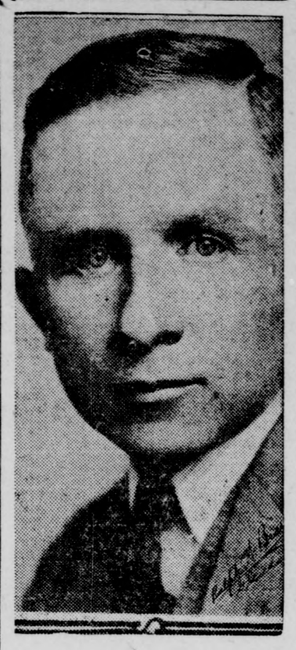
New Member

WILLIAM V. LAWLOR, who has joined the advisory board of the Gibraltar Finance corporation.



The latest addition to advisory board of Gibraltar Finance corporation, 218 South Brand boulevard, and a man who adds materially to the strength of that board, is William V. Lawlor, 1842 Gardena avenue, who has conclusively demonstrated his business ability in recent years by his efficient handling of the Glendale branch of the Los Angeles Evening Herald. That Mr. Lawlor is a young man of unusual ability along the business line is generally known in Glendale, and his decision to become affiliated with this finance and mortgage corporation, shows conclusively that it is one of leading organizations of its kind in this section of the country.

For four years Mr. Lawlor has managed the Glendale branch of The Evening Herald, during which time he has lived in Glendale, having purchased the home he and his family now occupy on Gardena avenue.

Previous to coming here Mr. Lawlor was circulation manager of the San Diego Sun, and previous to that time he was in the real estate business for six years in Butte, Montana.

In becoming affiliated with the Gibraltar Finance corporation, Mr. Lawlor is branching out farther into the business life of Glendale and in so doing has "fixed his wagon to the finest kind of a star."

Sunland's Moonshine In Eclipse for Xmas

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Sunland's moonshine will not gladden the hearts of scofflaws this Yuletide, according to George Contreras, head of county's dry squad. His men yesterday seized more than 100,000 gallons of mash at a plant near Sunland, north of Glendale, disguised as a peaceful farm. Three stills with a capacity of twenty-five gallons of white lightning daily were dismantled and transported to this city today after the mash had been mixed thoroughly into Mother Earth. Tony Bruno, sole custodian of the plant, is in the county jail.

Bogus labels, including such names as "Green Stripe" and "White Horse" as well as improvised fake bonding caps were also displayed as evidence that an organized "ring" was backing Bruno's enterprise.

Mateo Ighlia, San Fernando road resident, was arrested near Roscoe while the dry squad was en route to Sunland. A choice stock of wines was seized at his place.

Toy Trucks for Tots Finding Ready Sale

Built first as an experiment and meeting with the instant approval of the public, Huli Trucks, a toy for children, is now being manufactured on an extensive scale by Clarence "Huli" Jensen at 701 South Brand boulevard.

The first Huli Truck was built last Christmas, and the small number manufactured sold out in a few days. This year, through the assistance of Bentley Lumber Co., Moore Cabinet Co., Viohl & Brown and J. A. Walch, 1000 of the trucks were made. They will stand rough treatment and support a weight of 500 pounds. Mr. Jensen says he expects to manufacture on a large scale next year and market through regular trade channels.

UNDERWEAR IS SETTLED BY SHIVERS

Manufacturers Say Early Fall Proved Record For Sales

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

UTICA, N. Y., Dec. 15.—"What d'ya read?" That's the cry of the newsboys all over America as they shiver between piles of papers. They do not get a complete answer but present production proves that among other things the public reads underwear advertisements. Also that, in spite of the fact that the red flannels of our ancestors have passed except among ball players like "Bullet Joe" Bush in midsummer, the American peope take off the short ones and put on heavier undergarments when Jack Frost commences a tour of the country. These facts became evident at the meeting of the Associated Knit Underwear Manufacturers of America here today.

In the underwear business, the early fall proved a record season in the great American sport of passing the buck. Retailers, finding demand dull owing to the open fall weather, declined to lay in heavy stocks. Manufacturers having few orders on their books, declined to "carry the hod" for the retailers. Along came cold weather with a crowd of customers surging around the underwear counters. Retail stocks were soon exhausted. Manufacturers' stocks followed suit and the factories now are working day and night turning out knit garments calculated to withstand the assaults of zero weather.

Shivers decide

A couple of shivers have determined consumers to take not what they want but what they can get. Men who spend their days in steamheated offices are wriggling in garments that would do for an Arctic, while outdoor workers in the fields and woods are slapping brisk arms about themselves in medium weight products.

This condition gradually is righting itself and city dwellers are being supplied with garments of worsted, wool, cotton or mixtures of those materials which weigh 10 to 14 pounds to the dozen union suits while the weights of those furnished the country dealers range from 16 pounds to the dozen up. This condition has led to no marked increase in prices. No change is contemplated during the remainder of the heavy weight season. The main effect, however, has been to stimulate demand in advance for spring weights. This buying has been most satisfactory in spite of the unrest in primary markets for wool and cotton.

One thing which the makers of heavies have been able to eliminate is the necessity to scratch. Woolen garments have been so softened in manufacture that much of the dread attending the winter change has been done away with.

Juvenile Auxiliary to Resume Music Activity

Activities of the juvenile auxiliary of Glendale Music club will be resumed Saturday afternoon, when an open meeting will be held at the Van Grove music salon, 337 North Brand boulevard. There will be a business meeting beginning at 1:30 o'clock, followed by a Christmas program. Mrs. E. S. Dodds, who is chairman of the auxiliary, will be assisted on Saturday by Mesdames H. V. Henry, W. G. Lauderdale and N. M. Knaus. Information regarding the auxiliary can be secured by calling Mrs. Dodds at Glendale 2749-W.

tend the funeral services at the Glendale Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. It was stated at the City Hall that the council will not consider making an appointment to fill the vacancy until after the funeral services. It was further stated that the council may not consider making the appointment at its regular meeting next Thursday, preferring to take time to consider the various applicants of which there are said to be at least fifteen.

All Vacant in April

According to provision of the city charter, a councilman appointed to succeed Mr. Hall will serve only until April, 1925, the date of the next municipal election. At that time all five positions on the council will be filled by vote of the people of Glendale. The three councilmen receiving the highest votes will serve four-year terms and the other two will serve two-year terms.

The regular term of Mayor Robinson and Councilmen Davis and Kimlin expire in April, states Ray L. Morrow, city attorney. The term of Councilman Gilhuly, appointed by the council early in the year, to succeed W. A. Horn, resigned, also expires in April, under provision of the city charter. And, similarly, the appointee named to succeed Mr. Hall will serve only until the April election. This means that the voters in April will select five councilmen, an entire board, and the elected councilmen will select one of their number to act as mayor of the city.

morning but will not consider the matter at that time, according to Mr. Sone, it being the unanimous opinion that, out of respect for the memory of Mr. Hall, no hasty action in filling the vacancy should be taken.

Many Applicants

Mr. Stone admitted that between ten and fifteen applicants have already approached members of the council and himself, seeking "pledges" that they receive endorsement for the position.

The members of the city council will act as honorary pallbearers for their departed fellow councilman, according to Rev. Edmonds. The board of elders of the Glendale Presbyterian church will attend the funeral services in a body, and there will be present also a number of elders from the Immanuel Presbyterian church of Los Angeles, where Asa Hall was for many years an elder.

Mrs. C. M. Retts will sing "Son of My Soul" and "Abide With Me." There will be present the following members of the family: Mrs. Carrie W. Hall, widow of the deceased; Irvin R. Hall of Long Beach, son by a former marriage; and F. G. Hall of 1201 Viola avenue, a cousin. Mr. Hall is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Pippon and Mrs. Nettie Petch, both of Ontario, Canada.

Resolution In Full

Following is the resolution adopted this morning by the city council:

"Whereas, Almighty God, in His wisdom, has seen fit to call our beloved associate Asa Hall, to his heavenly duties and relieve him from further work and responsibility with us, and

"Whereas, he was a conscientious and faithful official of the city of Glendale for the past few years and had formerly devoted his time and ability to civic affairs of our sister city of Los Angeles, and

"Whereas, we are grieved at his loss and realize that his place cannot be filled, now, therefore be it

"Resolved, that this evidence of our sympathy with his dear wife and family and our high regard for him as an honorable Christian gentleman, our feeling of gratitude for his many acts of friendliness and faithfulness for the city he so loved be spread in full on the minutes of the council of the city of Glendale and a copy furnished to the family.

Muskrat Farm Expects To Earn Good Returns

PERRY, N. Y., Dec. 15.—V. H. Butts and Claude Curtis have established a muskrat farm south of this village. The farm has been stocked with twenty-five pairs of breeders. A natural increase of not less than ten muskrats to each pair is expected, and, figuring on a conservative basis, it is estimated that at the end of five years, 178,555 muskrats will have been grown. Ordinarily, muskrat pelts are in great demand, and oftentimes the price ranges from $1.50 to $4. Even if the price were but fifty cents a pelt, the owners say that the gross sum would be nearly $90,000 at the end of five years.

Dynamiters Defeat Orangemen 7 to 0 In Hard Fought Game

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

Playing together like a well-oiled machine, the Glendale Dynamiters earned the right to meet Compton in the finals of the Southern California champions by slipping Coach "Bullet" Berg's Orange Panthers the empty end of a 7-0 score in a see-saw tilt played on Patterson field Saturday before a crowd of 15,000 spectators.

When Porter Thompson, who played quarter for the Glendale lightweights during this season, replaced Carl Denny in the third quarter after Denny had been roughed severely and his kicking leg injured, Coach Hayhurst sent in probably the most accurate forward passer in any of the teams. Porter promptly opened up an aerial attack which took the Dynamiters down the field but the chance for a touchdown was spoiled when Dotson fumbled Thompson's pass and Brubaker recovered for Orange.

Thompson's time had not come yet, however. In the last quarter after "Nelly" Nelson, a big boy who booted far and high on both punts and place kicks had failed to boot a field goal from the forty-five yard line for Orange, Dotson punted forty yards to Wulff, who muffed the ball just enough for Glendale to recover. Orange was penalized fifteen yards for tripping and a little later Dotson punted again, this time thirty-five yards to Orange on its own twenty-five yard mark.

Thompson Grabs Pass

The Panthers opened their aerial attack but Porter Thompson snagged the first spiral and ran to the Orange twenty-three yard line. Elmer Muff broke through the Orange left tackle and twisted through the Panther secondary defense for a twelve yard gain. Thompson went one yard on a line buck, and on the next play duplicated Muff's run for an eight yard gain.

This put the ball on Orange's four yard mark with four downs to push it over. Muff tore through the Orange line for almost the distance being stopped by Krueger exactly two inches from the white chalk mark. Bud Elliott plunged over left guard for the only score. Coach Hayhurst rushed in Johnny Lovell to make sure of the extra point. With his teammate, Thompson holding the ball, Lovell kicked the oval exactly over the middle of the cross-bar.

After Glendale's score the Panthers made a brave fight to stave off defeat. From his own ten yard mark Brubaker heaved a pretty thirty-yard pass to Durrel who was downed on his own forty yard line. Another pass from Brubaker would have taken the ball into Glendale territory had not Ritchie muffed the ball. With but fifteen seconds to play Brubaker threw another pass but Les Lovell caught it in midfield and ran to the Orange twenty yard mark as the game ended.

Try Back Kick

Bud Elliott intercepted an Orange pass during the last five minutes of the second quarter and the locals got another try at the Orange goal. After Bud caught the pass on Glendale's forty-five yard mark, Thompson was sent in.

Two perfectly thrown passes, both of them to Bud Elliott, gained thirty-five yards. Muff got away for an eighteen yard sprint, taking the ball to the Orange twelve yard line. Thompson's place kick from the fifteen yard line at a bad angle was partially blocked and failed to go over.

The Dynamiters were in hot water during the first of the second half when Bradbury's pass was intercepted by Durrel on the Glendale twenty-five yard line. The Orangemen failed to gain more than five yards after Glendale was penalized for offsides. On the fourth down Nelson tried a place kick from the fifteen yard line. The kick almost caused several cases of apoplexy in the Glendale stands for the ball hit one of the uprights and bounded outside.

After Nelson failed to win the game for the Panthers it was Glendale's turn from then on, the Orangemen being unable to penetrate territory.

Durrel played a whale of a game for Orange, recovered fumbles, intercepting and catching passes. Nelson was a tower of strength in the Orange line and did some nice kicking for his teammates. The whole Orange backfield proved to be a first class battering ram, crashing through their lighter opponents for good gains.

Bill Bradbury played well for Glendale as did Phillips and Lavelle. Bradbury and Dotson both did some nice booting. Captain Dick Ryan was greatly handicapped by an injured ankle which was hurt in one of the first plays of the game. Elmer Muff was there with his sensational open field runs. Carl Denney received an injured leg and was out for almost half the game. Porter Thompson's line bucking and pass throwing was a big factor in Glendale's victory, Mr. Thompson, although he weighed less than 135 pounds hit the line as well as any of Glendale's backfield and his pass throwing was phenomenal.

The evenness of the two heavyweight teams is shown in the following summary:

	Glendale	Orange
Passes complete	4	4
Passes incomplete	13	11
Passes intercepted	3	3
First downs	15	16
Lost ball on downs	1	0
Place kicks tried	3	4
Place kicks made	0	0
Fumbles	3	5
Fumbles recovered	5	3

New Method Cleans Glass Easily and Quickly

For cleaning and polishing all glass surfaces, this amazing new California product called "Gloss for Glass" has no equal. Windows, mirrors, showcases, cut glass and the glass on your automobile can be perfectly cleaned and polished in less than half the time required for other methods. Just moisten a piece of cheese-cloth with Gloss for Glass and run it lightly over the soiled surface, following with a dry cloth in the other hand to prevent streaking. No rubbing necessary—this one simple operation will clean and polish the grimiest piece of glass.

Gloss for Glass is non-explosive, odorless and will not injure the finest fabric. The glass on closed cars can be polished without soiling the upholstering—the windows can be cleaned without covering the rugs and furniture.

Everyone who has tried Gloss for Glass is enthusiastic over the results. You will be, too, after you try it and know how simple and easy it is to use.

A ten-ounce can of Gloss for Glass—enough to clean sixty ordinary windows—costs only 25 cents. Get a can today from the Webb Department store or any grocery, drug or hardware store.—Advertisement.

BASEBALL

M. C. Bacon's Burbankers had a tough week-end, losing to Parker's Stars, 13 to 2 on Saturday, and Gene Murphy's by a score of 8 to 5 yesterday. Conkwright fanned 12 men in yesterday's game, but his teammates could not overcome the lead the shirt lads had piled up in the first and third inning.

Lankershim and Zelzah are tied for first place in the San Fernando Valley league, as a result of the 21 to 0 drubbing Lankershim gave Zelzah yesterday.

The St. Louis Giants supprised everybody, including themselves, by beating Gilmore Oilers 3 to 1 yesterday. Ferdie Schupp was on the mound for the Oilers, with Curley doing the hurling for the Giants.

Cecil Cruze, former Glendale hurler, proved the hero of Sunday's game when he turned in a 5 to 1 win for Watts over Howitzer. His long triple, coupled with his pitching, were big factors in the victory.

Dick Bonnelly, on the mound for the Azusa team, let the San Gabriel sluggers down with three hits, collected a like number for himself, made two putouts and four assists, and struck out six men. Azusa won 10 to 4.

Harry Davis, pitching for the Cane Building Supply team, hurled a no-hit, no-run game yesterday against the Hewitts at Van Nuys. He fanned twelve and allowed only one walk. He contributed a homerun and generally helped his team to win, 13 to 0.

The Pasadena Merchants blanked the Hollywood crew yesterday, 11 to 0, at Tournament park. Pericta and Ross divided honors for Pasadena, with Billman doing the hurling for the movie lads. Rhorer and Lindemore connected for homers.

The Glendale Caseys and Irvine battled to a 2-2 tie yesterday at Irvine, when Irvine tied the count in the ninth inning. Butler was on the mound for the local Caseys, with Heidree doing the hurling for Irvine.

SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

Wonder what experts will do when they get through picking all-American teams? Another shooting to worry L. A. police. That makes ten of 'em since November 1. Not such a bad record, considering none of 'em have been solved. So cold in Chicago, gunmen had to leave to keep six-shooters from freezing. One thousand of 'em scurried with the last blizzard. Nine hundred and ninety-nine came to L. A. The other fellow was shot before he got there. Advertising all this sunshine hereabouts is so convincing, tourists can't resist.

"Ben Hur" is going to succeed the Gish girls "Romola" at the Egyptian theatre in Hollywood. This isn't publicity for Sid Grauman or Gish girls or "Romola" or Hollywood. The fact of its showing so near hereabouts recalls all little surprise parties incident to production.

For 10 years ex-tailors, pantsmakers, pawnbrokers, et cetera, now fillum producers, ran Mark Klaw, Abe Erlander and estate of General Lew Wallace ragged carrying millions into their respective offices for the screen rights to this be-whiskered mellerdramer. They heard it made a big hit once on the stage and didn't want to deny the "dear public its thrills.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" also made big hit and still is making big hit on one-night, barnstorming circuits. Famous Players grabbed screen rights to this old thriller of slavery days just about time little Marguerite Clark was sinking into oblivion.

Famous Players made the mellerdramer with Marguerite as Little Eva, crossing the ..ice and everything, and it was a record flop. This is just a reminder, in passing, as "Ben Hur" incidents come to mind. They thought it would revive her. She was so disgusted with results she married a naval officer.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, in any formation, beat the other boys to it. They got rights to "Ben Hur." Immediately world was told in circus superlatives what it could expect. First step thought necessary was to get cream of scenarioists to improve on Lew Wallace's work. June Mathis, because she improved on the Ibanez novel, "The Four Horsemen of Something or Other," was elected, having been aided and abetted by Rudy Valentino.

June knew a nice, big fellow by name George Walsh, whom she thought a lot of. George was cast for the title role.

Charley Brabin was sent over with the megaphone. Charley who has done a lot of mighty fine work for the screen from behind the megaphone didn't suit the powers that be. Enid Bennett's husband, Fred Niblo, was given a ticket across the pond to replace Charley.

Then George Walsh got his papers. Then June got hers. Lois Meredith was sent to replace June and Ramon Navarro took Walsh's place.

No one knows how many feet of film reached the ash can nor how many American dollars were wasted. Anyway, Niblo started in to show Brabin where he was all wrong and Navarro did likewise with Walsh and Meredith ditto with June.

Then Louis Mayer went over; then Marcus Loew; then May McAvoy. Everyone was commutting between Hollywood and Rome. Boats didn't run fast or often enough to take care of the gang that left Culver City and Rome at the same time.

Now the picture is finished—or supposedly so. Press agents for fillum says "Ben Hur" will run for year at Egyptian theatre. It should run for a life time if producers expect to get back money thrown away in Rome.

Such is the profligate, hectic life in the movies. And they call that art. Shades of Oscar Wilde! What epigrams he could knock off if he could know the facts. Art in the movies?

Berkeley Upsets Lodi Hopes for Grid Title

LODI, Dec. 15.—Berkeley High school football team upset the Lodi hopes for a state championship squad Saturday when the Yellowjackets defeated the home team, 51 to 0. The locals were outweighed and were unable to make any headway against the visitors. The Yellowjackets took the offensive at the start and ran through the local line at will. Berkeley will meet Bakersfield next Saturday in the battle for the state title.

WALSH ALL-STARS ELEVEN IS GIVEN

Sports Writer Familiar to Glendale Fans Selects All-American

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—An end from the south, another from the shade of the classic New Haven elms, if any. A tackle from Pennsylvania, another from the spaces, mostly wide and open. Two guards from Chicago and Dartmouth, a center from California, three of the "four horsemen" and the inevitable Grange. This is the writer's conception of the all-American football team for the season of the 1924.

A comparative few of those named are picked, sight unseen. Wakefield of Vanderbilt for example, has played two remarkable seasons without a single eastern critic getting an optical slant on his ability. The south claims him as one of the greatest ends that ever played the game and there are not enough good ends at hand to offset that ballyhoo. Luman of Yale, a man who does everything well, can hardly be kept off the opposite wing.

Weir of Nebraska was one whom it was the writer's misfortune to miss in action. Yet Weir played the greatest game of the year against Notre Dame, they say, and a man who can do that once will do it again. McGinley of Pennsylvania, a remarkably fast man on the charge, a great tackler and far faster than his ends down field, is the second best in a really fine field.

California Center

Pondelik of Chicago and Diehl of Dartmouth were the big factors in the success of their respective teams, although their work was the sort that failed to catch the eye of the crowd.

Horrell of California; Lovejoy, Yale; Eckstein, Brown; Johnson, Pittsburgh; Walsh, Notre Dame, and Garbisch, West Point, stood out as centers with almost equal brilliance. Horrell was the most consistent, however.

The backfield needs little elaboration. Grange was the greatest back of the generation, Crowley and Layden almost indispensible and Stuhldreher easily the best quarterback of the year. The writer saw him make several mistakes but they were of minor significance. He was the best quarterback on a game-to-game analysis.

In the same connection, it was said that Baker of Northwestern outplayed the Horsemen individually when they met. But it is the writer's idea that he didn't do so over a complete campaign and that is what an All-American team stands for.

In passing, it might be remarked that many players are unmentioned with regret and a vague sense of foreboding. Thirty-three players no more represent the entire backfield of stars than rivets represent thumb tacks.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP by FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—All this talk about science offsetting a hard mauling attack is pretty much bunk. Even when it does the fans are sore. They want to see a walloping battle, the fighters often standing toe to toe.

Kid Kaplan, who hurdled Joe Lombardo, the Panama scientist, last week with the idea of facing the Southpaw slams of Danny Kramer three weeks later, is a great apostle of the slam bang of boxing skill.

Before the Danny Frush battle he was warned about the Englishman's cleverness and punching ability. Said Kaplan:

"Frush will be too busy wondering where all the gloves are coming from to think of ducking them, let alone punching on his own account."

He set sail for the foreigner and buried him beneath an avalanche of short hooks and jabs, Frush going down in the fourth round.

The critics are all sold on Tiger Flowers and while willing to credit Johnny Wilson's sincerity in asking for another fight not one of them believes there will be any different result the next time the two meet.

Flowers, according to inside dope, did not show all his stuff against Wilson but is holding back for the time when he can get a well known light heavyweight, or Harry Greb, the middleweight king into the ring. It does not do, you know, for a newcomer to make himself look too dangerous.

Anyway, in view of the Flowers' showing against Wilson, his knockouts at the hands of Kid Norfolk have been forgotten.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The season of good will on earth and endorsement of baseball men has spread to President Ban Johnson of the American league. After the brief joint session of the major leagues here he blandly announced that the American league would give no one in baseball any concern in the future. Then he went away with friends and another chapter had been written in the little baseball comedy that has been so successfully staged in the last few days.

Much powder has been fired, the reports are still reverberating in the hills, and the major leaguers, after conversing with Commissioner Landis over the long distance telephone, will meet with him in a postponed joint session in Chicago next Wednesday. And that's another good baseball story which goes from New York to the west.

But the joint session was not the only development in the baseball world. The Boston Red Sox announced that they had transferred McNally, a member of their team for less than 24 hours, to Washington in exchange for Prothro.

This threw considerable of a surprise into the camp of the New York Yanks who had parted with McNally to Boston and the critics began to wonder if Washington had not stolen a little march on the Yanks. For in acquiring McNally, the champions have bolstered up their infield list with a young man who, while no Ruth at bat, is faster than a streak on the infield and may mean more to them than he could possibly mean to the Yanks. He will prove a great asset if Peckinpaugh is unable to stay in the line up, for he can take third and let Bluege go over to short without weakening the Senators' defense appreciably.

Boston is pleased at itself because Prothro, whom it acquired from Washington can bat, and batting is what they feel most in need up in the New England city.

Clark Griffith took a shot at strengthening of his pitching staff by adding Coveleskie, the old Cleveland star, to it and permitting Speece to go to Cleveland. Coveleskie may do well in Washington where the climate is more suited to his old soup bone. Speece looked very good at Washington but Grif felt the need of an experienced pitcher more than he did an investment in future possibilities. With Speece he sent Smith, a young outfielder who played with Memphis last season and did very well. Cleveland wanted a right hand batting outfielder and was very glad to get Smith.

The Cincinnatis and the Giants did no trading. There was never much chance that they would. for, while New York had two good first basemen, either of whom Cincinnati would have been glad to get, the Reds had nothing that New York needed. Cincinnati got an outfielder named Seitman from Newark but Hendricks is still looking for that much needed first baseman.

It is more than likely that Shocker of the St. Louis Browns will come to the Yanks in a trade involving several players. At one time it looked as if the Yanks had Shocker booked but Phil Ball, owner of the Browns, is ill and things have to be sprung upon him slowly. If the Yanks could manage to get Shocker away from St. Louis they would rob the Browns of half their sting so far as New York is concerned, because Shocker has led the Yanks a merry chase since he left them. It might almost mean the pennant.

Wheat might go to St. Louis and if he does it is possible one of the St. Louis outfielders might come to New York. Whatever happens it seems that Sisler is not satisfied to go ahead in 1925 with the team that he has now. The Browns have been together so long that they are stale.

PICKS MYTHICAL PREP GRID TEAM

All-Northern Squad Named By Stanford Freshmen Coach, E. P. Hunt

By E. P. (HUSKY) HUNT
Stanford Freshman Coach.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 15.—Having seen practically all the Northern California high school football teams in action, I am submitting the following all-Northern California high school team. Like all other mythical elevens, this team will probably be subjected to criticism. However, I think that this aggregation will be able to stand up against any group of high school stars in the country. Following is the lineup:

L.E.—O'Brien.....San Mateo
L.T.—Sellman.....Lick Wilmerding
L.G.—Bigelow.....Potter
C.—Goldstrom.....Berkeley
R.G.—Emde.....Lodi
R.T.—Tobin.....St. Mary's Preps
R.E.—McGinnis.....Watsonville
Q.—Clymer.....Berkeley
R.H.—Van Horn.....Lowell
L.H.—Beckett.....Oroville
F.—Barsi.....Stockton

On this team we have one light and one heavy end, O'Brien of San Mateo weighs but 160 pounds, but he is very fast, knows the game, tackles well, and does practically everything expected of a good end. McGinnis of Watsonville is the best defensive end I have seen in high school football this year. He charges in hard and fast, and it is very difficult to take him off his feet. He is also very fast on the offensive.

Heavy Tackles

Sellman and Topin, my two tackles, each weigh 200 pounds. The former is easily the best high school tackle I have seen in recent years. He is a rangy fellow with lots of fight and a good knowledge of the game. I have made him captain in view of his work as the Lick leader. Tobin is almost equal to his running mate.

For guards I have selected Bigelow, a 210-pounder, and Emde, who weighs but 170. These men are both fine guards. The former is a gigantic lad, who is hard to get out of the way, while the latter depends on skill and a fast charge.

Goldstrom is chosen for the center position because his passes are always good and he plays a wonderful defensive game. Clymer, the quarterback, would be my triple threat man. He is a good kicker, an accurate forward passer and a shifty open field runner. He has a good head and runs his team in excellent fashion.

Backfield Players

Van Horn and Beckett would be a splendid pair of halfbacks. The Lowell boy is good at handling passes and as good an open field runner as could be found. He weighs 158. Beckett is a big fellow, weighing 170, who has learned a lot of football this year. He is a stalwart defensive man, a good passer, and his running back of punts has been a big factor in Oroville's success.

Barsi is the hardest hitting fullback in this section of the state. He is also a good punter and backs up his line in excellent fashion. There are a number of other good players who would not weaken this team in the least. Some of these men are:

Ends—Booth, Berkeley; Kerrigan, Palo Alto; Fredericks, Mission; Boyle, Vallejo. Tackles—Paul, Stockton; Koch, Berkeley; Williams, Almeda; McManus, San Mateo; Smith, Lowell. Guards—Vrenbenberg, Lowell; McKay, Lick Wilmerding; Morton, William Warren; Moore, Santa Clara Preps. Center—Dahlgren, Vallejo; Cameron, Cogswell; Enea, Sacred Heart. Backs—Muller, William Warren; Dougery, Berkeley; Hewitt Watsonville; Edwards, Lowell; Smith, Palto Alto; O'Brien, San Mateo; Howard, Lick Wilmerding.

Riding on a toboggan or skis drawn over the ice by an airplane is a new and popular sport at Lake Tremblant, near Montreal.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Colorado University had the rare distinction in the late football season of possessing an eleven that not only won Rocky Mountain conference honors by a goodly margin, but was not scored against by any opponent.

Colorado is the one important team in the country which may lay claim to this honor, an honor the more lustrous because the Boulder outfit was up against a stronger assortment of teams in the conference this year than ever before.

Myron Witham, captain of the 1903 Dartmouth team, is the coach and such eastern football experts as Phil Brasher, Princeton's chief scout for many years, say that the team would stand up with any in the land.

A great deal of the team's success in the forward passing game was due to the work of Chilson, next year's captain, who had the faculty of jumping into the air and while at the top of his jump making his pass. This together with the fact that the thrower was extremely accurate made it very difficult to intercept passes and only a few were caught by opponents. Colorado's forward passing was a nightmare to rivals.

Witham, by the way, is a new convert to the theory that a few plays well executed will gain more ground than a hundred that the team does not know very well. In this connection it might be said that in Princeton heavy scoring game against Harvard the Tigers used only eight different plays.

Homer Hazel, the star Rutgers fullback has received more or less publicity because of his posession of a wife and children. Steve Polaski, the captain elect in Wisconsin may not have as many children as Hazel, but he has enough to make him eligible for rating among the apostles of domesticity. He has two, one four years old and one two.

Polaski is 25 years old and is working his way through Wisconsin and meanwhile supporting his family. This accounts for the fact that he plays football one year and the next usually spends all his time working to accumulate funds to help tide over the school term.

Polaski is really a first-class end and in 1925 will be playing his third season as a regular. Back in 1920 he was on the freshman team and then played on the regular varsity in 1922 and 1924.

With his election as captain, the fraternity squabble which nearly wrecked Wisconsin this year will end. Trouble started in 1923 when the Kappa Sigh had six men on the varsity and tried to elect Bieberstein captain. The rest of the squad organized against him and Harris, a D. U. was elected to the post. The results proved to be happy as far as winning football was concerned.

Southern Pacific Line Sets Building Program

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—The Southern Pacific will carry over approximately half its $49,000,000 road building program into 1925. Three big construction projects, calling for 325 miles of entirely new lines in Oregon, New Mexico and Mexico, which were started last January, are only partially completed.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 15.—Demand for leather footwear is more active in this district than for many weeks.

GLENDALE CASEYS TIE WITH IRVINE

Game Called at End of Ninth On Account of Darkness With Score 2 to 2

Coming from behind in the ninth inning, Irvine tied the Glendale Caseys, 2 to 2, at Irvine yesterday afternoon. Butler was on the mound for the local team and fanned five men. Heindrick pitched for the Irvine team, striking out seven and allowing two walks.

Irvine opened the scoring in the first inning. The local Caseys knotted the count in the fourth and took the lead in the seventh, only to have the Irvine team tie up the score in the ninth. The game was called at the end of the ninth inning

Retail Business Back To Normal Stride Again

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 15.—Retail business in this territory revived early this week after a temporary lull. Confidence is thoroughly sustained and this is accelerating sales. The trend upward is expected to continue until Christmas at least. Leaders in financial and industrial lines are warning the public here against excess of after-election optimism. The concensus of opinion, however, is that business is on a substantial basis and that the present volume will be sustained.

Evening dress is optional at the theatre, but is compulsory at the cabaret in London.

BOND MARKET

A review of the bond market made by the Los Angeles offices of the bond department, Bank of Italy, points to the keen demand exhibited for the new United States Treasury 4s as the overshadowing event of the week. It says in part:

"The oversubscriptions which buoyed the new treasury bonds to a premium of 100½ immediately upon being marketed pretty well indicates the consensus of expert opinion as to the immediate future of bond prices. Such an overwhelming demand for a long term issue carries but one answer when applied to the probable trend of levels, and its meaning cannot be interpreted in any other way than that which concludes that the definite analysis made by financial heads is a sign of a period of more constructive movements.

"Railroad liens were hesitant in surrendering the limelight position which they have enjoyed for six weeks, and, in fact, evidenced a tendency of heightening activity, prompted by further progress in a few of the proposed rail mergers. The drawn out Nickle Plate deal seemed nearer possible completion, forcing up Chesapeake & Ohio Convertible 5's to a record 1924 high. International Great Northern adjustment 6's also advanced on optimistic rumors regarding the Missouri Pacific merger.

"The announcement by a national automobile executive of his intentions to institute a new investment trust, with the subsequent issuance of ten-year bonds against stocks of several large corporations, brings this new form of investment instrument closer to investors in this country. The plan is rapidly gaining favor after many years' successful operation in England.

"The dearth of new issues which has existed for several weeks results in a volume of pent-up buying power which will probably be lessened shortly after the first of the year, concurrent with the expected flotation of a number of new loans to corporations which plan expansions to care for the 1925 era of prosperity. The report that the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. has appropriated $265,000,000 for such work is an example of this activity, forerunners of which are found in the pending issues of $15,000,000 Central Leather 6's due 1944, $15,000,000 Fisher Body corporation serial 5 per cent notes, $50,000,000 Belgium 7½s, $4,500,000 Maxwell Motors first mortgage serial 5½s, $4,000,000 Republic Iron & Steel Co. short term 5% notes, $10,000,000 of the Greek loan which was recently underwritten in London, and several German industrial loans.

"The progressingly bright outlook in Europe was evidenced in the rise of United Kingdom 5½'s due 1929 to a new high at 115¾, although strength in sterling had a bearing in the movement."

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION NO. 2691

A RESOLUTION OF THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE DECLARING ITS INTENTION TO IMPROVE PORTIONS OF BRUCE AVENUE, GLENWOOD ROAD AND EIGHTH STREET, WITHIN SAID CITY.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE:

SECTION 1. That the public interest and convenience require and it is the intention of the Council of the City of Glendale to order the following work and improvement to be done, to wit:

First: That Bruce Avenue from Glenwood Road to a line twenty (20) feet southerly from and parallel to the southerly line and its extensions of Eighth Street; that a portion of Glenwood Road at and adjacent to the termination of Bruce Avenue in Glenwood Road, all as more particularly set forth on Plan No. 895, shall be improved as follows, to wit:

That said street and portion of street be graded, paved with a three inch oil macadam pavement, and have constructed thereon wooden header, all except as otherwise shown on said Plan No. 895. Said work shall be done in accordance with plan and cross section therefor shown on said Plan No. 895, and in accordance with Specification No. 67.

Second: That an 8" vitrified pipe sewer be constructed in Bruce Avenue and across portions of Glenwood Road and Eighth Street from a line thirty (30) feet southerly from and parallel to the northerly line and its extensions of Glenwood Road to a line twenty-six (26) feet northerly from and parallel to the southerly line and its extensions of Eighth Street, together with manholes, frames and covers, house connections, plugs, and appurtenances, all as shown on Plan No. 1485-S. Said vitrified pipe sewer shall be constructed to the line and grade shown on said Plan No. 1485-S, and in accordance with Specification No. 38. Said manholes, frames and covers, house connections, plugs and appurtenances, shall be constructed at the location and elevation shown on said Plan No. 1485-S, and in accordance with detailed drawings therefor shown on Plan No. 394, Sheets No. 1 and No. 4. Said manholes, frames and covers, house connections, plugs and appurtenances shall be constructed in further accordance with Specification No. 38.

Third: That the grade to which the aforedescribed work shall be done and the improvement made which is provided for as heretofore stated shall be that shown on the profiles on Plans No. 895 and No. 1485-S, to which said plans reference is hereby made for a description of said grade.

Fourth: That all the foregoing work on Bruce Avenue, Glenwood Road and Eighth Street, is fully set forth, delineated and described on Plans No. 895, No. 1485-S, and No. 394, Sheets No. 1 and No. 4, all duly adopted by the Council of the City of Glendale, and now on file in the office of the City Engineer of said City, and in specifications Nos. 67 and 38 duly adopted by the Council of the City of Glendale, and now on file in the Office of the City Clerk of said City. Said plans and specifications are hereby referred to for a full and detailed description of the said proposed work and improvement, and shall govern in any and all respects in which said plans and/or specifications differ from this Resolution of Intention.

SECTION 2. That the Council of the City of Glendale determines and declares and hereby orders that a certain part of the costs and expenses of the work and improvement described in Section 1 hereof, to wit, the sum of one thousand two hundred sixty two dollars ($1,262) be paid out of the Treasury of the City of Glendale from the fund known and designated as "The Bruce Avenue Improvement Fund."

SECTION 3. That in the opinion of the Council of the City of Glendale, said contemplated work and improvement is of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and said Council hereby determines and declares that the district within said City benefited by said work and improvement, and to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, except such portion of said costs and expenses which is to be paid by the City of Glendale, as provided for in Section 2 hereof, is all that portion of said City within the following exterior boundary lines, to wit: Beginning at a point in the southerly line of Glenwood Road where said southerly line is intersected by the southerly extension of the westerly line of Lot 33, Tract No. 5621, as per map recorded in Book 59, Page 32, of Maps Records of Los Angeles County, California; thence northerly along said southerly extension crossing Glenwood Road, and along the westerly lines and their northerly extensions of Lots 33 to 18, both inclusive, said Tract No. 5621, crossing Eighth Street (30 feet wide) to an intersection with the northerly line of said Eighth Street; thence easterly along the northerly line of said Eighth Street to an intersection with the northerly extension of the easterly line of Lot 51 said Tract No. 5621; thence southerly along said northerly extension crossing said Eighth Street, and along the easterly lines and their southerly extension of Lots 51 to 36, both inclusive, said Tract No. 5621 crossing Glenwood Road to an intersection with the southerly line of Glenwood Road; thence westerly along the southerly line of Glenwood Road to the point of beginning; excepting from the above described district any portion of any public street or alley that may be included therein.

The above description is general only. Plat No. 895-A of said district, duly adopted by the Council of the City of Glendale, indicating by a red boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district, is on file in the Office of the City Engineer. Reference is hereby made to said Plat for a further, full and complete description of said assessment district.

SECTION 4. That notice is hereby given that on Friday, the second day of January, 1925, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., in the Council Chamber of the Council of said City, located in the City Hall, 619 East Broadway, Glendale, California, any and all persons having any objections to the proposed work or improvement may appear before said Council and show cause why said proposed work or improvement shall not be carried out in accordance with this Resolution of Intention.

SECTION 5. That the City Clerk is hereby directed to publish this Resolution of Intention in the Glendale Evening News, a daily newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in said City, and hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution of Intention shall be published in the manner and in the form required by law.

SECTION 6. That the Street Superintendent of said City of Glendale shall cause to be conspicuously posted along the line of said contemplated work or improvement, and along all of the open streets in the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of said improvement, notices of the passage of this Resolution of Intention, in the time, in the form, and in the manner required by law.

SECTION 7. That the Council of the City of Glendale also determines and declares that serial bonds bearing interest at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum, shall be issued to represent each assessment of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) or more, remaining unpaid for twenty (20) days after the date of the warrant. Said serial bonds shall extend over a period ending nine (9) years, from the second day of January next succeeding the fifteenth day of the next November following their date. Payments on the principal of the unpaid assessments and interest shall be made by property owners to the City Treasurer, and the same shall be disbursed by him, all as provided in the "Improvement Act of 1911."

SECTION 8. All the proceedings for the aforesaid work and improvement shall be had and taken under an Act of the Legislature of the State of California known as the "Improvement Act of 1911."

Adopted and approved this 11th day of December, 1924.

ELDER BERNSTEIN HEARD IN SERMON

Conference Head Speaks On Closing Day of Week of Prayer

Elder O. O. Bernstein, president of the Southern California conference of Seventh day Adventists, spoke Saturday morning at the church in Glendale, corner of Isabel street and California avenue. That day being the close of the week of prayer that the denomination in all parts of the world has been observing, the subject prepared for the occasion was "Preparation for the End." The keynote of the exhortation was the text found in Matt. 24-44: "Be ye also ready for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of man cometh." Elder Bernstein said:

"The conditions of eternal life, under grace, are just what they were in Eden—perfect righteousness, harmony with God, perfect conformity to the principles of His law. The standard of character presented in the Old Testament is the same that is presented in the New Testament. The standard is not one to which we cannot attain. God has made provision that we may become like Him, and He will accomplish this for all who do not interpose a perverse will, and thus frustrate His grace.

"The whole heart must be yielded to God, or the change can never be wrought in us by which we are to be restored to His likeness. By nature we are alienated from God, and He desires to heal us, to set us free. But since this requires an entire transformation, a renewing of our whole nature, we must yield ourselves wholly to him. The warfare against self is the greatest battle ever fought. The yielding of self, surrendering all to the will of God, requires a struggle; but the soul must submit to God before it can be renewed in holiness."

Evening Service

At the service at 7:30 last night Elder R. W. Parmele, pastor, gave a study on the second chapter of Daniel. This was one of the series of studies that he is conducting on Sunday nights on the prophecies, and other Bible themes. He said:

"The dream that is recorded in this chapter," he said, "was given to the king in order that he 'might know what shall be in the latter days.' We, living in the 'latter days' are interested in this dream because of this fact. We are not left to conjecture its meaning, for Daniel said, 'There is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and maketh known' the interpretation of the dream.

"When he closed his narrative of what had been revealed to him of the interpretation of the dream, he added, 'the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.' So we may be sure that we are on safe grounds in this study."

14 LEARNING TO FLY

VENTURA, Dec. 15.—Fourteen student fliers have been enrolled here by David R. Matthews, member of the Santa Barbara Aero club, who is organizing a Ventura Country club. Mr. Matthews is spending most of his time "up in the air" with embryo pilots.

RESERVISTS CRUISE

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 15.—Eagle boat No. 12 with Lieutenant W. A. Brunnick in command, made a cruise to Santa Cruz island over the week-end with naval reservists aboard. Rifle practice and boat drills were among the diversions. Classes have been started, it was announced, in rules and regulations of navy routine, which are held weekly at the American Legion hall.

FEATHERS FOR BEDS

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 15.—Employes of Fairmount park have been busy the last few days plucking feathers from the shores of Lake Evans, hundreds of waterfowl having lost their winter overcoats in recent high winds, it is reported.

CANYON ROAD CLOSED

CORONA, Dec. 15.—Santa Ana canyon highway between this city and Placentia is closed. Motorists are warned not to take the Orange county-Riverside county short cut for one month because of repairs. There is no detour. Carbon canyon is the next shortest route, but dangerous in wet weather. Traffic is advised to go by way of Whittier between Orange county and Riverside county points.

SAVE CHRISTMAS TREES

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 15.—Permits are not being issued this year, except to charitable organizations and churches, to cut Christmas trees in the San Bernardino mountains, according to Fred Jeken, deputy forest supervisor. "The mountains of the Southland are barren enough," he says, "without deliberately cutting away the young growth desirable for Christmas trees."

EGGS BRING IN MONEY

HEMET, Dec. 15.—In tabulating the sources of San Jacinto valley's $2,600,000 crop returns this year the Chamber of Commerce has learned that hen fruit constitutes a quarter of a million dollar crop, exceeded only by a half million dollar revenue from alfalfa hay. Deputy Commissioner H. A. Richardson is making a crop census for the state department of agriculture.

WOMAN FACES CHARGE

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 15.—When Mrs. Adela Pacheco is returned from the Los Angeles city jail, where she is doing time for shoplifting, she will probably face a charge of jail-breaking here, having walked away from a six months' sentence. Her identity was checked by finger-prints.

TO DEPORT GUNMEN

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 15.—Federal authorities are co-operating with the district attorney's office here in deporting alien gunmen from this district, it is stated by Deputy District Attorney A. S. Maloney. Antonio Fuente (not the prize fighter) and Jose Garcia, who worked their way to Colton from Mexico, are held for deportation, the carrying of concealed weapons by an alien being a felony.

Pass Resolution on Death of City Worker

The following resolution was adopted by the City Council at their last session, extending condolences to the family of Garfield W. Jones, who died Thursday, December 11, 1924, and was buried Saturday afternoon, December 13, at Grand View Memorial park:

Resolved, By the council of the city of Glendale, that

Whereas, Garfield Jones has for more than ten years been a faithful, efficient and esteemed employe of the public service department of the city of Glendale, respected and loved by his fellow employes, by this council and by all persons with whom he came in contact, and

"Whereas, We are shocked and grieved by the loss that has befallen all of us, now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the condolences and sympathy of the city of Glendale be extended to his wife, mother and family, expressing our sincerest sympathy in their bereavement, feeling that we have lost in Garfield a true friend and a wonderful example of American manhood; be it further

"Resolved, That this resolution be spread in full on the minutes of the council of the city of Glendale.

"Dated this 11th day of November, 1924.

Central Christians In Pre-Christmas Service

A pre-Christmas prayer service will be held Wednesday night, at the Central Christian church, following a "church night" supper at 6:30 o'clock.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Christmas shopping is at its height in Glendale, with but eight more shopping days. Saturday the stores of Glendale impressed Archie Parker, former merchant, to say he had never seen business better. Also, the stocks are better than ever, he commented to the writer.

Trading in Glendale is a pleasure. The stores are ready for your patronage. The service is better than usual, and as Mr. Parker found, the stocks are quite complete. However, do not delay. If you wait until the day before Christmas you do not give the merchants opportunity to fill broken lines.

Buy your gifts now and avoid the last minute rush.

The question has been raised regarding high taxes in Glendale and other incorporated cities of Los Angeles county—and particularly Los Angeles.

One reason advanced is the large amount of highly populated unincorporated area—a half dozen cities, in fact—dependent on county government which is charged against the incorporated and unincorporated territory.

There has been a tendency on the part of communities, Tujunga and Casa Verdugo being two of the lesser examples close at hand, not to incorporate, or become a part of some other city. No doubt there are reasons for this, but the people residing in such unincorporated "towns" are causing costs of county government to mount.

There is one community boasting 25,000 population, just east of Los Angeles, which is not incorporated. Much money is spent there by the county in fire protection, police work done by the sheriff's office and the improvement of highways. Los Angeles, Pasadena, Glendale and other cities maintaining departments for similar work suffer their taxpayers to be charged for the benefits gained by unincorporated area.

It has been said county officials oppose incorporation, although that assertion is difficult to prove. It might be well for civic organizations to insist that incorporation be urged upon towns and districts of sufficient size to be chartered as cities. Some measure of relief would be granted the county, the writer believes.

City taxes are comparatively low, when one considers the benefits derived therefrom. Communities which are not incorporated have false economy ideas when they continue under county jurisdiction, for it is impossible to the county to meet all their requirements.

But when the county raises valuations in incorporated cities because of the benefits derived from such incorporation, it is time for cities to demand that closely populated county areas pay their own way.

Glendale obtained many hundreds of dollars' worth of publicity from the games won by its high school football teams this season. Also, the high school athletic fund was greatly enriched by the large number attending Saturday's games at Occidental's Patterson stadium.

Double the number of football fans are expected to see this coming Saturday's game between Compton and Glendale. Every loyal civic booster should be present at Washington park to cheer for Glendale. It's a good way to advertise.

And then something by way of a celebration should be held for the football players to let them know how much their sturdy efforts are appreciated.

True Spirit of Xmas Is That of Giving

strands of crepe paper, afterwards shellacking the finished article.

It is wonderful to be able to give gifts de luxe like the lovely three-strand necklace of pearls clasped with emerald cabochon with wristlet and little finger-ring to match or the fan of ombre ostrich in rose shades, pictured above. But if one cannot give these or other equally luxurious gifts one can put so much loving thought into choosing just the inexpensive gift that will please the friend you have in mind.

In this way you will be happy with your heart full of the true Christmas spirit as you do your shopping or make your modest gifts and the recipient will also be pleased.

I want just to say a word about gifts for children. Did you ever notice how some simple toy from the 10-cent store will please a child and he will play with it for hours and neglect the more elaborate things? Sometimes a child will have many friends and relations who vie with each other in showering it with ingenious toys and the child is soon satiated. The tiny fingers of a child of from two to five years cannot manage the mechanical toys so often bestowed on it and a toy to which he can attach a string and pull about after him or that he can run on an imaginary track over the carpet will please him much more. The grownups of the family always get more enjoyment out of the mechanical or electrical toys than the children as the latter can seldom play with them alone. And the tiny girl will love and appreciate a rosy-cheeked rag doll that can go to bed with her and share all her play much more than the fine one that has real hair, opens and shuts its eyes and talks—but must not be handled.

Merchandise Is Stolen From Pendroy Entrance

A box of merchandise containing hosiery and underwear was stolen from the delivery entrance of the Pendroy Dry Goods Co., Brand boulevard at Harvard street, some time Saturday afternoon, it was reported today. Police are investigating.

The home of John E. Hanigan was burglarized at 6 o'clock Saturday night and a ruby ring and leather handbag taken. The police found entrance was gained through a window.

Jock C. Wood of 1739 Del Valle avenue reported the theft of a portfolio from his car Saturday afternoon, while it was parked outside the postoffice.

Theft of a box of carpenter's tools from a toolhouse at Brand boulevard and Lomita avenue, some time Saturday, was reported. The police are invesigating.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Albert Kwsigroch, aged 75, is dead today as the result of a coffee pot boiling over, extinguishing a gas flame as he dozed in his home Saturday night, and Sunday morning he was found unconscious from the fumes. He failed to recover at the hospital.

An investigation into numerous alleged "strip poker" parties at Sherman is under way, according to the district attorney's office. Girls as young as 14 played the game with a number of men, they have confessed.

The State Railroad commission has been asked to insist that improved street car service be furnished the Highland Park district.

Cross word puzzles have cost Henry Dana his wife in divorce court, his wife alleging he was more interested in "words" that his helpmate; Tom Johnson of Long Beach is defendant in a divorce suit alleging he pays more attention to horseshoe playing in Long Beach than home duties.

Building materials on many jobs are being delayed by a so-called "strike" of several hundred independent dump truck operators, it is reported.

GLEE CLUBS GIVE HOLIDAY CAROLS

Impressive Xmas Service Rendered by Singers Of Local Club

The Christmas Carol service, given Sunday afternoon by the girls' and boys' glee clubs of Glendale Avenue school, was impressive and a splendid demonstration of achievement by the music department of the city schools. The eighty-eight young voices in the chorus showed excellent training, the young soloists' voices carried well, the duet was excellent, and the girls double trio, a Capello, well rendered. The large audience joined in singing the processional and recessional. The finale was the singing of "Silent Night," with antiphonal choruses. Numbers were: "Come All Ye Faithful" (Reading); chorus, "Prayer Song" (Sweesy); anthem, "Cantique de Noel" (Adam), girls' glee culb; duet, "Under the Stars' (Brown), George Okey and Charles Hirt; anthem "Nazareth" (Gounod), Varian Sloane and chorus; double trio, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" (Willie), Oneita Brown, Corabel Boyle, Leona Henry, Marjorie Packard, Gladys Higgs, Dorothy Leash; anthem, "The Birthday of a King" (Neidlinger), Frank Howe and chorus; recessional, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" (Mendelssohn); hymn, "Silent Night" (Gruber), antiphonal chorus.

The singing was directed by Miss Mildred Hughey. Miss Gladys Sharpe was accompanist.
